MEXICAN PROBLEM ABSORBS INTEREST

Ambassador Will Hold Conference With President and Secretary Today

MANY SOLUTIONS PROPOSED

United States Expected to Pursue Well Defined Policy Toward the Troublous Republic Before Events Reach Crisis.

Washington, July 25.—While administration officials here believe the crisis will not be reached in Mexico until the northern rebel armies press closer to Mexico City and the Federal strongholds, indications tonight were that an effort would be made by the Washington government to pursue a well defined policy before events reached a critical stage. The first step in the formulation of a policy will be taken tomorrow, when Ambassador Henry Lane Wilson will bring to the President and Secretary Bryan first hand information of the situation in Mexico.

Mr. Bryan today announced emphatically that there was no disposition on the part of the administration here to interrogate Ambassador Wilson about the numerous reports alleging activity on his part in connection with the downfall of Madero and the establishment of the Huerta regime. He added that the ambassador had been called merely to throw light on present conditions in the troublous republic.

After Ambassador Wilson has conferred with Secretary Bryan he will talk further with President Wilson and probably will be asked to appear before the Senate committee on Foreign Relations. That Ambassador Wilson had expressed, on his arrival in New York opposition to the proposals for mediation and had indicated his sympathy with the desire of the Huerta government to be recognized were communicated informally to Mr. Bryan, who made no comment. He said he would await his personal interview with the ambassador before discussing these subjects.

To Outline Developments.

Immediately after his conference with the ambassador, Mr. Bryan is scheduled to appear before the Senate committee on Foreign Relations further to present the administration's plan for a protectorate over Nicaragua, but on the same occasion, it is expected he will be asked to outline the developments towards a Mexican policy. Members of the committee, and the Senate generally, are strongly inclined toward some executive action by which all factions in the Mexican dispute can get arms from the United States.

It was apparent tonight that the present policy of the administration was to prevent all shipments of arms to either side pending final determination on this point.

It is believed that after the President and Secretary Bryan have obtained from Ambassador Wilson his own ideas and interpretations of the political situation in the Mexican capital, the American government, in a measure, will reiterate views expressed in the Latin-American statement made by President Wilson shortly after his inauguration, in which he proclaimed that the United States has nothing to seek in Latin America, but the welfare of its sister Republics. With this in mind, the recent suggestion of an American offer of mediation may be followed as an evidence of the good intentions of the Washington government. Information from Federal, as well as constitutional forces today, however, was to the effect that neither side would consider mediation by a foreign government. The national pride of the Mexicans, it was pointed out, would not submit to interference in internal politics.

Should it develop that overtures of the United States toward peace were not favorably received, it is expected that the Washington government would thereupon pronounce itself on the subject of arms and ammunition, in all possibility lifting the embargo so that all sides can buy munitions of war. Such a development, it is believed in many quarters here, would strengthen the constitutionalist cause so as to bring matters speedily to a

REVOLUTIONARY CAUSE WANES

Chinese Rebels Telegraph President Yuan Shi Kai Proposing Basis for Peace Negotiations—Attacks on Arsenal Fail

Library of Congress

Shanghai, July 25.—The revolutionary cause here is said to be waning. Despite the large accession of rebel reinforcements, the attack on the arsenal by the Southerners last night and today failed completely and Dr. Wu Ting Fang, former Chinese minister to the United States; General Wen Tsung Yao, and other prominent rebels, after a conference today, telegraphed President Yuan Shi Kai proposing a basis for peace negotiations.

It is now known that So Chow Fu, in the province of Kiang Su, is in possession of the Northerners. The military governor of the province of Hu Nan has proclaimed the neutrality of his district, and the military governor of Che Kiang province is suppressing all propaganda against Yuan Shi Kai. Despite negotiations made for an armistice, fighting was resumed at 9 o'clock this evening. The Southerners reinforced by 500 Cantonese and 100 Huanese, again attacked the arsenal, but were defeated with considerable losses. The forces at the mouth of the river have joined the loyalists.

The city presents an extraordinary appearance. Fires are blazing on the outskirts of the native city and thousands of homeless Chinese refugees are camping in the streets. Hotel roof gardens are crowded with foreigners watching the fighting. Searchlights from British warships are trained on the customs house and the ammunition magazine.

It is reported that the rebels are falling back throughout the Yang Tse valley and that the government steadily is gaining.

The British warships Hampshire, Minotaur and Monmouthshire; the French cruisers Duplex and Montcalm; the Dutch cruiser Holland, and the Japanese cruiser Suma arrived here today. Marines were landed from the French vessel. The Japanese admiral who is the senior officer of the fleet, met the other foreign admirals tonight to discuss the situation.

A building here which was used as a prison, was set afire today and 200 convicts escaped including Yung Kwei Shing, instigator of the murder of General Shung Chiao Jen, ex-minister of education, whose death was the chief cause of the present rebellion.

Fighting Continues.

Peking, July 25.—The situation in the fighting centers remains unchanged today except for a weakening in the Southern forces by reason of desertion from and dissension in their ranks.

The outbreak is causing dismay in the commercial world and numerous telegrams from commercial bodies continue to urge President Yuan Shi Kai to suppress the rebellion and demonstrate that he has not lost his hold. Rebel leaders steadily are winning over half hearted officials, who are awaiting the issue of events. Parliament meanwhile is quietly transacting only unimportant business.

Gen. Feng Kwe Chang, with 5,000 men yesterday and today was advancing toward Su Chow, where he will join Gen. Cheng Hsun and Gen. Crang Tsao Lin, who have 15,000 troops. It is understood the combined forces will march to Nan King against the Southerners who are retreating on that city from Linhusku.

The government has requested the legations to agree to domiciliary searches of the houses of their nationals suspected of harboring Chinese offenders and also to the trial by Chinese court martial of foreigners assisting the rebels. This is aimed at the Japanese, but its rejection is inevitable owing to conflicting treaties.

Troops Pressing Southward.

London, July 25.—"Northern China and Manchuria now have sent every available soldier southward," says a dispatch to the Daily Telegraph from its Peking Correspondent.

"From day break," the correspondent continues, "Peking has resounded with bugles as the garrison regiments marched out to entrain for Pukow. I counted 25 battalions of infantry, six batteries of modern quick firers, four mountain batteries, two regiments of cavalry, and other details, making 30,000 combatants.

"It is evident that every available force including the press and money is being employed to crush the Southerners. In Peking the campaign against the Kwo Ming Tang party is the fiercest.

Joplin, Mo., July 25.—Carl Morris, the Oklahoma heavyweight, knocked out Al Benedict, of Brooklyn, in the fifth round of a scheduled 15-round fight here tonight.

NO AGREEMENT ON THE CURRENCY BILL

Another Stormy Session Held on the Monetary Problem

ADJOURNED UNTIL MONDAY

President Wilson Confers With Representatives Regarding Various Features of Administration Bill—Discussions

Washington, July 25.—In another stormy session, Democratic members of the House Banking and Currency committee found themselves unable even to agree to disagree on the administration currency bill. They adjourned until Monday, when, after President Wilson has conferred with Representative Ragsdale, of South Carolina, who yesterday presented to the committee the so-called insurgent amendments to the bill, the struggle to reach some sort of an agreement will be resumed.

While the committee marked time today during a session of the House which demanded the presence of its members on the floor President Wilson had conferences with Representative Wingo, who has opposed several parts of the administration bill, and with Representative Glass, chairman of the committee, following which it was planned that the bill be taken out of the hands of the Democratic members of the committee and be sent to a House caucus, if a vote demonstrated they were unable to agree.

Accordingly, when the conference met after the House adjourned, Representative Wingo offered a motion that the bill be submitted to a Democratic caucus to be called a week from Monday, and that the committee members in the meantime thresh out as many of their differences as possible. Representative Ragsdale offered a motion to send the bill to the caucus immediately without any recommendation and with all amendments pending. Other motions followed in quick succession and confusion ensued.

The discussion became acrimonious, Representative Ragsdale calling Chairman Glass to account for a published statement that the chairman believed the committee was unable to agree. Chairman Glass repudiated the statement.

Representative Korbly interrupted Representative Bulkeley's discussion of the pending motion to ask a question and continued his interruption to make a statement. Representative Bulkeley arose to ask: "Why the members of this committee were so discourteous to each other."

Representative Korbley disclaimed any intention to be discourteous.

Representative Wilson, of Florida, wanted to know if the charge of discourtesy applied to him and Representative Bulkeley retorted that his statement could be interpreted by each member of the committee to suit himself. In the confusion the various motions to send the bill to conference were laid upon the table and the committee adjourned until Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock with the bill still suspended in mid-air.

Phone Trust Case Starts Discussion

Washington, D. C., July 25.—Attorney General McReynolds' action in testing the applicability of the Sherman anti-trust law to the telephone trust in the civil suit filed at Portland, Oregon, against the alleged monopoly on the Pacific coast, today revived discussion of the probable ultimate policy of the Wilson administration towards the general telephone situation.

The selection of one of three courses is suggested—enforced competition under the Sherman law; the toleration and encouragement of monopoly under Federal regulation, as in the case of the railroads, or government ownership and operation of the telephone, like the mails.

While Attorney General McReynolds has not reached a different conclusion, it is understood his present disposition is to leave the general telephone trust problem to the Inter-State State Commerce Commission for the present and not attack a situation as a whole under the Sherman law until at least a reasonable time has elapsed to show the results of the commission's investigation now under way. A governmental policy is expected to be evolved out of that inquiry.

Attorney General McReynolds today declined to discuss the possibility of criminal action on the Pacific coast following the filing of the civil suit of yesterday. The Western situation was investigated by grand juries at Portland and Seattle months ago and no indictments were returned.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Washington, D. C., July 25.—The Inter-State Commerce Commission today postponed until January 29th, 1914, the applications of the railroads to increase freight rates on furniture from High Point to Boston. Application had been made by the railroads to put the rates into effect July 28th pending a further investigation by the commission. The order has been postponed again.

Representative Small today recommended George W. Waters for appointment as postmaster at Plymouth. Waters was the successful candidate in a postoffice primary which was held by Congressman Small.

Although the commission of Postmaster E. G. Pace, at Gastonia, does not expire until next March, Representative Webb has already received application from four candidates for the place. They are John R. Rankin, J. M. Walters, Joe Green and W. H. Lewis. Rankin filed a petition today with 967 signatures of patrons of the office.

C. E. Wilson, of Hendersonville, is here on his way home from Panama. Wilson is a candidate for the position of director of ports and collector of customs of Panama.

The Civil Service Commission will hold examinations August 20th at Greensboro, Raleigh, Wilmington, Asheville, Charlotte, Durham and Goldsboro for laboratory aid in physics. The position pays from $600 to $720 a year.

A new postoffice has been established at Jalong, Person county, and Nathaniel R. Vallines named as postmaster.

Leslie Morgan has been appointed rural letter carrier on Route 1 from Spring Hope.

John A. Barringer, of Greensboro, is here.

The Senate today confirmed five North Carolina nominations for post master. They are: I. T. Sumner, Ahoskie; D. L. Windley, Belhaven; A. C. Link, Hickory; D. E. Best, Warsaw and J. F. Saunders, Troy. P. R. A.

BURLESON IS DETERMINED

Orders Parcel Post Changes Effective August 15th Despite Senatorial Criticism and Other Stringent Protests

Washington, July 25.—Despite Senatorial criticism of the proposed reduction in parcel post rates and the increase in the size of packages, Postmaster General Burleson today announced he would issue the final orders at once putting the changes in effect August 15th.

The announcement came after the wisdom of making the changes had been subjected to a searching review before the Senate Postoffice committee in the presence of the postmaster general.

Chairman Clark, of the Inter-State Commerce Commission, explaining why the committee had sanctioned the proposed changes, said he believed the postmaster general had ample power under the la wto make the changes.

"I am convinced that the Postoffice Department ought to, can and will extend the parcel post until it will carry all packages up to 100 pounds," he added.

So urgently did Senators Bristow and Bryan attack the proposition that the changes would result in increased profits for the government, that little was said about the power of the postmaster general to make such changes. Later in the day Mr. Burleson demonstrated his determination not to allow his plans to be interferred with by issuing the final order putting the new regulations in force on August 15th. At the hearing Chairman Clark, of the Inter-State Commerce Commission, defended the commission for giving its consent to the new regulations.

Another meeting of the Senate Postoffice committee was called for tomorrow. At that time Senator Bryan will urge a favorable report on his bill to repeal the authority of the postmaster general to make changes of the nature in question. Senator Bristow will support this movement. Senators Hoke Smith, Swanson and Chilton will oppose it. Senator Bryan announced tonight that if he were defeated in committee he would renew the contest on the floor of the Senate, and would do so in time to prevent the postmaster general's orders going into effect on August 15th.

MORE LETTERS FOR RECORD

Senate Lobby Investigating Committee Adjourns Until Monday—Expect to Windup Correspondence of "Lobbyist" Then

Washington, July 25.—With only about 1,000 more of Martin M. Mulhall's letters to be read into the record, the Senate Lobby Investigating committee adjourned today until Monday expecting to windup the correspondence of the "lobbyist."

Towards the close of the day's session Mulhall showed signs of the strain he has been under. He became For God's sake do have merely if you letter, and when Senator Walsh suggested that he needed a rest exclaimed: "I'm just about broken down. For God's sake do have mery if you can. I don't want to say I'm breaking down but I don't want to answer questions if you'll let me go."

Chairman Overman announced today that attorneys for the National Association of Manufacturers and the American Federation of Labor would be allowed to question the witness through the committee provided they submit questions 24 hours before hand and receive the committee's approval. Senator Nelson had a talk with the Democratic members before the decision was announced, and it is known that he protested vigorously against allowing Mulhall's story to stand without examination by the lawyers for the organizations involved.

During the hearing today a sharp debate occurred among members of the committee about whether foreign manufacturers and importers had influenced tariff reductions in the present bill.

Mulhall went to Massachusetts in August, 1910, and wrote General Manager Bird, of the Manufacturers of conferences with Senator Lodge and Charles E. Hatfield, chairman of the State committee.

"Senator Lodge pays us all kinds of compliments for the work we are doing and I know we will have his aid more actively than ever before in the next campaign," wrote Mulhall. In other letters to friends written that month Mulhall wrote, "Through our efforts we have beaten the Hon. T. D. Nichols, of the Tenth Pennsylvania, and we also have beaten notorious George A. Pearre, of injunction fame, in the Sixth Maryland."

On August 30th Mulhall wrote to President Taft asking for an interview for Bird and himself.

"It will be a great help to have a number of leaders of the manufacturing association in touch with the leaders of our party throughout the country in the present crisis," the letter ran. Mulhall swore he received a reply from C. D. Norton, the President's secretary, arranging the interview for Monday afternoon at Beverly.

October 5th, 1910, Mulhall wrote Former Senator Foraker about his talk

"Votes for Women" In Every State

Washington, July 25.—Plans for a widespread campaign for "votes for women" to be carried into all the States of the Union not now having woman suffrage, will be laid at a conference of the National Council of woman voters here August 13, 14 and 15. Announcement to this effect was made today at the Congressional committee headquarters of the council.

Delegates to the council will be present from Wyoming, Kansas, Utah, Idaho, Colorado, Washington, California, Oregon and Arizona, the States having full and complete woman suffrage. Illinois, in which women recently won a modified right to the ballot also may be granted representation. Ways and means of bringing influence to bear locally in the various States still considered "dark territory" by the suffragists will be considered.

Thirty-eight members of Congress have signified their intention of attending the banquet to be given by the "pilgrim" suffragists who will storm Congress Thursday. The "pilgrims" are converging on Washington in automobiles from all points of the compass, according to a statement issued today from the headquarters of the National American Woman Suffrage Association.

STRIKE OF COOPER MINERS

Strike Managers Say They Will Welcome Governor Ferris on Scene of Action—Spasmodic Disorders Occurring.

Calumet, Mich., July 25.—Reports that Governor W. N. Ferris would come to Houghton tonight to help arrange a settlement of the strike of 15,000 copper mine employes brought out an unofficial statement from the managers that they would welcome the Governor's presence.

Any plans for arbitration under the direction of the Governor were soon dispelled, however, by the announcement that Mr. Ferris had no present intention of coming or of withdrawing the militia, which is protecting the mines against any further outbreak of the strikers.

Disorders occurred spasmodically in the outlying districts of the mining country today. A call for troops came from the south range when Union sympathizers drove away the sheriff's deputies at the Baltic, Tri-Mountain and other mines, but an investigation by militia commanders convinced them that the situation was not serious enough to require the presence of State soldiers.

Officers of the three companies now here are agreed that the storm center will remain in and about Calumet. Accordingly about the shops and shafts of the Calumet and Hecla tonight, electricians have strung wires with 6C candle power lamps suspended every six feet. The militia commanders were convinced that the illumination would prevent any possibility of "planting" of explosives about the armory or mine buildings at night.

The union officials held a conference this afternoon and tonight issued a statement elaborating one given out earlier in the day. Reiterating that the "strike was not called until peaceable means had failed," and that to requests for a conference "not even the courtesy of a reply was extended," tonight's statement continues:

"The only statement that we have seen from the company's standpoint was to the effect that they have never treated with the Western Federation of Miners and did not feel that it was necessary to do so now.

"The worker has at least as large a stake in the management of the industry in which he is employed as he has in the conduct of government, local of national. His citizenship gives him a voice in government; his employment should give him a voice as to hours, wages and the conditions obtaining in the industry in which he is employed. That is what is meant by 'recognition of the union,' and constitutes the longest step yet taken towards the establishment of justice and industrial peace.

"The wages of the underground workers throughout the copper mines of the country, with the exception of Michigan, average $3.50 per day. It would take several increases for them to reach that figure here."

Gov. Ferris' Opinion.

Lansing, Mich., July 25.—Governor Ferris, who returned here this afternoon, said he will not order the removal of the State troops from the copper country until he is assured positively that lives and property are not in danger. He believes an early settlement will be brought about and that the labor troubles in the Upper Peninsula will be ended in a comparatively short time.

Martial law will not be declared in the copper country until the Governor and his advisers are positive the situation demands it. The Governor, however, is fortified with an opinion from Attorney General Fellows that it will be possible for him to take such action if the civil authorities are unable to preserve order and protect life and property.

Governor Ferris probably will go to Big Rapids late tonight, as his wife is seriously ill at their home in that city.

The show will last for three weeks, and horses from all sections of America will be entered. Mr. Little's horse will be entered in ten different classes. Princess Patricia is the champion saddle horse of the South Atlantic States, and will no doubt attract attention in the New York show.

SENATORS DEBATE TARIFF PROBLEMS

Williams and Cummins Engage in Lively Metaphorical Harangue

REVIEW OF THE SITUATION

Hours of Argument Delay Progress on Chemical Schedule—Little Accomplished During a Long Session.

Washington, July 25.—Senator Williams, of Mississippi, in the tariff debate today said that the Democrats had found it difficult to deal logically with the tariff because the industrial condition had been placed on high stilts by years of Republican protection.

This prompted Senator Cummins to ask why the Democrats had not cut off a little of both stilted legs, "instead of leaving the industrial body crippled with the manufacturing leg longer than the agricultural leg." Senator Williams replied that they were "afraid it would kill the poor thing," to walk straight all at once.

"You have put the country on stilts," said Senator Williams addressing the Republicans. "We cannot reduce the duties in our bill although we would like to on account of the chaotic artificial condition you have created. We cannot run a thread of logic through this bill for that very reason."

"I agree with the Senator from Mississippi that the Payne-Aldrich law gave the American legs stilts that were too high, but I think the way to correct the trouble is to saw off a fair length from both legs. But the Senator from Mississippi would saw off one leg entirely and leave the other where it was, thus leaving a very disjointed and perverted industrial body. He should leave the agricultural leg no shorter than the manufacturing leg."

"Well," said Senator Williams, "we found the poor thing with one leg already longer than the other and we took off proportionately from the long leg, but still the poor crippled thing will have to go stumbling along."

"But you should equalize the legs," said Senator Cummins.

"Oh, we struck a fellow so in the habit of walking with one leg longer than the other that we were afraid it would kill him if both legs were made exactly even," Senator Williams retorted, arousing laughter of the Democrats.

Senator Bristow, discussing an alleged discrepancy in a duty on potato starch with none on potatoes, asked Senator Williams why the Democrats put a duty on rice and not on potatoes. Senator Williams declared that one reason was that the Republicans had begun to hothouse rice and the Democrats could not take all the duty off at once, and further that rice was not such an "everyday food as potatoes."

"Why do you put a duty on bananas?" Senator Bristow asked.

"First," said Senator Williams, "because it is not a basic article of food, and second, because the banana trade in this country is absolutely controlled by the United Fruit Company, which is also buying up the banana land abroad. Again, the tax is made so small that it cannot possibly affect the retail price and the fruit trust will have to pay it."

Senator Bristow finally declared that in the pending bill the Democrats had deliberately and outrageously discriminated against the farmers in favor of the manufacturer.

"Does the Senator mean to say," asked Senator Williams, "that the Democrats of the House and Senate deliberately got up a scheme to injure the American farmer?"

"I would not want to attribute to the Senator from Mississippi and his colleagues such an unworthy purpose," replied Senator Bristow, "but I say that they have framed a bill which does."

An amendment by Senator Bristow to reduce the proposed duty on dextrine made from potato starch from one-half cent per pound to one cent was rejected by a vote of 29 to 46. Senators Brandegee, Oliver and Lodge, of the minority, voted with the Democrats. Amendments by Senator Burton to strike off the duties on gen-

Joy Riders' Checks for License Returned—"Insufficient Funds"

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., July 25.—It is learned at the office of the Secretary of State that a surprisingly large number of checks sent in to pay the annual State license taxes on automobiles are returned unpaid, most of them bearing the inscription, "insufficient funds on deposit."

This is taken to illustrate how many people "strain" their finances in order to make their currency system sufficiently elastic to cover the cost of owning and maintaining a "joy wagon."

One check for only $5 from an automobile owner was returned by his bank because of "insufficient deposit." This, in connection with the constantly advancing price of gasoline, would seem to make the prospects rather gloomy for the impecunious automobilist, who may have mortgaged his residence to purchase his machine.

Secretary J. A. Turner, of the State commission for erecting a home for wives and widows of Confederate veterans, was here today, returning from Fayetteville where he and Chairman Ashley Horne and Col. J. A. Bryan, of Newbern, constituted a special committee from the commission, selected the site for the home.

They chose what is known as the Ramseur site. This has five acres two miles from town on Haymount, the most fashionable section of the city. The place fronts the main thoroughfare. The commission proposes to erect at once a $12,000 one-story, fireproof building, work on this to begin by September 1st.

It is understood that there are a number of big-hearted, wealthy North Carolinians who will probably donate other buildings before a great while. The Daughters of the Confederacy propose to furnish the building and have the money in hand to do this.

It is estimated that there will not be room for more than 25 old ladies when the State building is completed, and the $5,000 annual maintenance appropriation will not take care of more than that number. Mrs. Hunter G. Smith, of Fayetteville, is the chairman of the board of ladies that has been working up this home the past several years.

Mosquitoes Cost Greensboro $63,000 on Account of Malaria

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Greensboro, N. C., July 25.—That the city of Greensboro lost $63,000 last year on account of malaria was a statement made by Dr. J. T. J. Battle before the Home Makers and Rural School Conference at the Normal College this morning.

Dr. Battle recently received replies from 21 physicians of the city to whom postcards had been sent, stating that Greensboro had 1,385 cases of malaria in the past 12 months. A number of other physicians had not been heard from and the estimated cases of malaria were placed at 1,500.

Dr. Battle said that the city lost $63,000 on account of malaria last year. All these cases were attributed to the presence of the mosquito in the city, and the malaria of the State, in fact, was said to be due to this cause. Dr. Battle, who is assistant health officer of Greensboro, is waging a campaign for the extermination of the mosquito, and contends that not only can malaria be driven out of the city, but be driven out of the State by systematic co-operation of the people of the State for eliminating the mosquito.

He declared that the wealth of the State would be increased and that the efficiency of the people would be strengthened by cutting out the fever which holds so many people down from their best energies. He suggested to the teachers, who showed a great interest in the possibilities of better health, that they could bring about this result by following directions given for exterminating the mosquito in their own communities by having tag days and having contributions from the altruists of the community.

While Dr. Battle was traveling over the city recently he was confronted by an aged lady who told him that God put the flies and mosquitoes here for a purpose and intended for them to stay here. Dr. Battle replied by requesting this aged lady to help him to keep the flies and mosquitoes down to the original number—one pair of each.

Darkness Called Fifteen Inning Contest With 8-8 Score—Naps Lucked It From Yanks—Red Sox and Athletics.

In the longest American League game ever played on the Washington grounds, the Washington Nationals and the St. Louis Browns ceased hostilities as darkness fell yesterday afternoon, the score remaining from the eighth inning an 8 to 8 tie. The Senators carried a three-run lead into the fourth inning, when the Browns went them one better, sending four runners across. The Senators tied it up in the eighth inning, Walter Johnsan having entered the pitchers' box by that time. Engel and Hughes pitched the initial innings, but were relieved by Walter Johnson, who twirled another one of his world beaters, striking out 16 Brown batters.

The Cleveland Naps lucked a victory from the New York Goats, in a pitchers' battle between Fisher and Mitchell, who both pitched pennant winning baseball.

A 7 to 5 victory by the Boston Red Sox over the Chicago Cubs in Manager Carrigan's initial appearance on the home grounds as manager of the world champions, is looked upon as a lucky omen by Boston fans.

The Athletics won from the Detroit Tigers, although Dubuc pitched a two-hit game, while the Athletic twirler allowed four hits.

Senators and Browns Tie.

Washington, July 25.—In the longest American League game on the local grounds this season, Washington and St. Louis today battled to an 8 to 8 tie. The game was called on account of darkness in the 15th inning. Baumgardner and Engel started in the box. Weilman succeeded Baumgardner and pitched a subermb game as did Johnson, who relieved Hughes. Johnson struck out 16 men. Agnew was hit on the jaw by Engel while at bat, and his jaw bone broken.

LEAVE CAMP ROUNTREE

Boys' Brigade Breaks Camp This Morning and Comes Home

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Camp Rountree, Carolina Beach, N. C., July 25.—It is realized with great regret that the close of our 16th annual encampment is at hand. This has been perhaps the most successful and enjoyable of all our outings and each participant goes back to his daily labor refreshed in mind and spirit and body. We know of no other vacation in which so much real good could have been accomplished. The boys are greatly indebted to the residents and owners of Carolina Beach for having contributed such a large share toward the success of the outing.

Orders were issued this evening to break camp at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. At 12:45 we board the cars for home and Camp Rountree will reluctantly be left to its place in history. Captain John F. Burton, president of the First National Bank of Wilson, left this morning. He endeared himself to the boys while among us and contributed no little to the success of the encampment. Alternating with Col. Walker Taylor, he led the exercises each morning. These exercises were an important feature of camp life and they have resulted in much good. Rev. G. T. Adams, of the Fifth Street Methodist church, was our guest last night and today. It was a pleasure to have him. He led the religious exercises this morning and they were enjoyed not only by the Brigade but by a goodly number of the beach visitors. Mr. Adams is always welcome to the Brigade. Our chaplain, Rev. Dr. J. M. Wells, was with us for awhile today. We are sorry that he could not have been with us more this year.

We gratefully acknowledge indebtedness to the royal and staunch friends of the Brigade for remembering us handsomely during the week. Mr. J. Allan Taylor early in the week, and Judge George Rountree yesterday, treated us to a "mess" of watermelons, and "what it took to carry these melons across, the boys had it." The freezer of cream donated by "Doc" Nutt met a similar fate. Wednesday night we had a melon-cutting as guests of the boys of the town who could not be with us. We appreciated their melons greatly and would have only preferred to have had their presence among us.

In closing we wish to recommend to all the uninitiated a "C. B. surf bathing party." Properly organized, systematized, advertised and conducted, this is some proposition to beat. If you don't believe it, just ask the boys—and then try it. If you can get Col. Taylor to lead the ceremonies, and will only furnish the proper quota of "skirts," we guarantee your money's worth of fun, pastime and amusement.

TENNIS EVENT A DRAWN BATTLE

United States Lawn Tennis Team Attacks English Trophy Holders—Large Crowds Witness Contest—Weather.

Wimbledon, Eng., July 25.—The United States lawn tennis team attacking the English holders of the Dwight F. Davis international lawn tennis trophy had to content itself today with a drawn battle, after two very hard fought five set matches, in which J. C. Parke, the Irish champian, beat Maurice E. McLoughlin, of San Francisco, and the other American contestant, R. Noris Williams, gained a victory over the veteran C. P. Dixon.

The large crowd which surrounded the famous championship court where the matches were fought in ideal weather was fairly impartial, but the eagerness of the majority to see Great Britain win led to several demonstrations in favor of the defenders.

McLoughlin was an intense disappointment to his friends, showing only occasional flashes of his usual brilliancy. Williams, on the other hand, beat the English veteran at his own game and proved much cooler than his opponent, out-generaling him in the finer points of the game. McLoughlin won the first set by breaking into Clarke's service at the 18th game. The Californian's form was a keen disappointment to his friends. He had an opportunity to take a commanding lead when the games stood at 4-3 in his favor, but after taking it to vantage four times he lost.

The 10th game of the second set saw a rally in which McLoughlin lobbed out, bringing the score to 15 all. He brought the score to 40-30 by a great smash but finally lost out. With England leading six games to five, the 12th began with a see-saw, but McLoughlin lost the lead by lobbing out and dropped the game and set by sending out an easy drive.

Third set: Beautiful passing during the first game of the third set kept McLoughlin in the lead. In the second game, McLoughlin going to the net, caught Parke short and brought the score to 30-40 at the end of a long rally, but a back-hand drive then went out, bringing the score to deuce.

McLoughlin's service gave him the ninth game, but the tenth went to Parke after some sharp rallies.

Fourth set: The fourth set was a walk-over for McLoughlin, who not only took games on his own service, but broke repeatedly into that of Parke. He apeared to have the measure of his opponent, whose returns were listless.

Fifth set: At the opening of the fifth set, McLoughlin appeared to have mastered the Irishman's deceptive service, but Parke braced brilliantly and won the set and match with a sustained series of smashing plays. The crowd went wild with delight when McLoughlin failed to place Parke's last drive. McLoughlin then shook hands with his rival, who was seized and embraced by a number of friends.

After a considerable interval Williams and Dixon began their match. The first was a love game for Dixon on his service. Williams playing the balls out of the court. Williams' hard and accurate smashing secured him several games, but Dixon outplayed him at passing. There was a series of spectacular smashes and brilliant volleying and in the deciding game Williams had the veteran running all over the court after his drives.

In the second set Dixon seemed to have braced up and obtained a substantial lead of four games to one, Williams then took a hard deuce game, but Dixon recovered and took the set by six games to three.

The third set opened with a pretty back court rally. Williams played easily, while Dixon seemed to have lost some of his coolness. Williams won the eighth game and the set with a great smash.

In the fourth set Dixon soon obtained a commanding lead of four to one and finished by taking the set, leaving the score two sets to two.

The fifth and deciding set was a severe one. There was a desperate deuce game soon after the start which was taken by the Englishman. Williams' service then improved and he obtained a lead of three games to two. Dixon cut into his service and soon the score was four games all. Williams then outplayed Dixon at the net and out-generaled him at the back of the court. Dixon recovered and brought the score to five games all. Williams won the vantage game and then took the next game, the set and the match.

WITH THE MOVIES.

Bunny at The Bijou

Three high-class films, an Essanay, a Vitagraph and a Pathe, will afford a delightful bill in the movies for the Bijou this afternoon and evening and the usual large number of week-end patrons are expected.

The feature film will be a Vitagraph, "Love's Quarantine," featuring John Bunny, the favorite comedian. It is a love affair complicated with a smallpox victim and the fun is fast and furious. The Essanay is an Alkali Ike feature story and it is entitled "Alkali Ike and the Hypnotist." The clever and eccentric situations are well portrayed and will be very interesting and amusing. The Pathe is also a strong one and the title is "The Pioneer's Recompense." This will be found full of interest and pleasure throughout. It should be remembered that the Bijou is always comfortable and pleasant, well ventilated and strictly sanitary.

A more complete bill could not have been secured in three films than that offered this afternoon and evening in the Grand. It sparkles with comedy, abounds in the tragic, and flows with romance—truly a feast for every one. "Cutey Tries Reporting" is a big comic offering released recently by the Vitagraph company. Standing in strong relief to this is a realistic drama of the sterner sort, "Juggling With Fate.", Selig, which teaches a strong lesson in a pleasing manner. A love story of the red-blooded, vigorous type is presented in the Selig release. "The Rose of May." The Grand during these hot days is one of the coolest and most comfortable spots in the city, and a splendid place in which to rest. The admission price is only a nickle, afternoon and night performances.

Niles had an unexpected walk-over in his match with E. H. Whitney, of Boston, winner, by 6-1, 6-1, 6-2. It required five sets to decide whether Gardner or G. M. Church, of New York, should go into the sim-finals. Gardner won at 7-9, 6-2, 6-2, 4-6, 8-6.

Clothier will meet Johnston and Niles will meet Gardner in the semi-finals tomorrow.

LITTLE TYPHOID IN RALEIGH

Government Expert Not Sent to Capital on Account Conditions in the City but to A. & M. College —Charters

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., July 25.—It deavelopes that Dr. Ridlon, of the United States Health Department at Washington, has been sent to the A. & M. College here at the request of Dr. Hill, the president, to investigate the cause of a half dozen cases of typhoid fever that have developed on the college premises this season. The college authorities are anxious to locate the cause and eliminate it at once and are sparing no effort to this end. There are fewer cases of typhoid fever in the city of Raleigh just at this time than usual.

A charter was issued today for the Wallace Fisheries Co., of Morehead, capital stock $40,000 for maintaining fisheries, and handling fish scrap and fertilizer materials, and also for a mercantile and real estate business. The incorporators are C. S. Wallace, W. M. Webb, J. M. Morehead and others.

Another charter is for the Sugar Loaf Gin and Ooil Co., of Youngsville, capital $10,000 by I. W. Mitchell, J. R. Please and others for cotton ginning and operation of cottonseed oil mill.

Mr. W. S. Wilson, Assistant Secretary of State, has been called to Caswell county on account of the very serious illness of a sister. Mrs. Hodges, who it is feared cannot recover.

CHRISITIAN COLLEGE MOVED

Institution at Dawson May Go to Snow Hill—Traffic Regulations.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., July 25.—The Industrial Christian College, located at Dawson, this county, eight miles from here, will probably be moved to Snow Hill.

The proposition made by the management of the institution was immediately approved by the people of the Greene county town, and if the proper financial inducement is offered the change will likely be effected in a short time. Fifteen thousand dollars is the sum now being raised in Snow Hill to induce President Tyndall to establish the college there, and at a mass meeting the business men of the town, which has a population of only about 1,000, guaranteed one-third of the sum in ten minutes, the donations ranging from $50 to $1,000. One public-spirited colored man gave $50 to the fund. The Industrial Christian College is a co-ed. institution that has grown rapidly since its establishment about ten years ago. It has acquired a creditable plant, has an efficient faculty, and its annual enrollment averages around two hundred young men and women from several States and foreign countries.

The education of those who ride in automobiles, horse-driven vehicles and on motorcycles and bicycles to meet the requirements of Kinston's new traffic regulations, said to be the most perfect to be found in any North Carolina town, began yesterday afternoon. The police acted as instructors, and the chauffeurs, drivers and wheelmen were attentive pupils. An officer stood at the intersection of Gordon and Queen streets, the busiest crossing in the city, from 5 o'clock in the afternoon until night, when he was relieved by another, and since then a bluecoat has loitered in the vicinity continuously. Turning into Queen street from East Gordon and vice versa, automobiles are required to come to a stop. This phase of the law was regarded at first as extreme by some owners of machines, but the need for it was apparent and no one has been narrow-minded enough to continue to resent it.

CREDITORS LOSE HEAVILY.

Many People Were Interested in Reidsville Tobacco Concern.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Greensboro, N. C., July 25.—Following the meeting held here of the creditors of the bankrupt tobacco firm of Robert H. Harriss & Bro., of Reidsville, it was said that the dividend to creditors will be small, and they will suffer big losses. The concern had borrowed largely, some of the money coming from farmers and people in moderate circumstances, who believed the firm to be absolutely sound. One farmer who had loaned the concern a few thousand dollars, said that his savings of a lifetime had been swept away, when he thought the concern safer than any bank. It developed in the meeting that during the last year salesmen had cost the concern $50,000 and interest amounted to $40,000, while the entire output was only about $300,000. It is not believed that Messrs. Harris acted other than the very best they could under the circumstances. Rival products were put out by concerns in the tobacco trust, and the Reidsville firm was simply bucking against tremendous capital and fearful odds, which they could not overcome.

FARMERS OBJECT TO SEWER.

Fifty Cases Against Greensboro on Account of Sewage.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Greensboro, N. C., July 25.—Complaint has been filed in the action of James R. Donnell vs. City of Greensboro, in which the plaintiff asks for $2,500 damages to his property on Buffalo creek resulting from the emptying of a sewer line into the stream and also for a permanent injunction against the city.

This is one of more than 50 cases which have been instituted by the farmers of the Buffalo creek section against the city on account of the emptying of the sewer line and septic tank into the stream.

Among other things the plaintiff says in his complaint that "all animal life, including fish, in the stream has been killed, and that apparently nothing can thrive in it, except mosquitoes." The matter has been in the courts for some time and the city has kept promising relief, but relief satisfactory to the farmers has not been given. It is supposed that the filing of the complaint means that a trial will be insisted upon at the August term of court.

BURGAW BUSINESS CHANGE

Trading Company Removes Headquarters to Wilmington—Notes

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Burgaw, N. C., July 25.—Friends and customers of the Burgaw Grocery & Trading Co., will be interested to learn that the business has been succeeded by the A. B. Croom, Jr., Company, and that the new company has opened a wholesale grocery store at No. 225 North Water street, Wilmington, with Mr. G. E. Leftwich in charge. Mr. A. B. Croom, Jr., head of the firm, will shortly go down to take active charge of the business there, taking a part of the office force from here. The business here will be continued as a branch, for the present at least, and will be in charge of Mr. C. R. Yopp, who has been with the old company for some time. His many friends in Pender will wish Mr. Croom much success in his new field and Burgaw hates to lose him as a citizen, for he is progressive and public-spirited, and is always ready to lend a hand in any and every movement for the uplift of the community. The church and Sunday school will miss him as he has been active in both.

Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Pullen are spending some time at Wrightsville.——Mr. and Mrs. J. Ross McNeil returned from the beach Sunday morning.——Mrs. Ed Williams, of Atlanta, is visiting at the home of Mr. S. P. Hand.

Congressman Faison was here for a short while Thursday on his way to the Moore's Creek picnic where he delivered the speech.——Mr. H. Overstreet paid a business trip to Wilmington Friday.

Mr. P. M. Williams, who was principal of the Burgaw High School for two terms and who quit teaching to engage in other business has been here for several days, installing a dry kiln at the mill of Mr. H. Garrett Smith, formerly the Burgaw Lumber Co.

A contractor for a steam heating plant for the Burgaw High School was here Friday consulting the committee regarding the plant.

Mr. Kennedy, manager of the Pender Auto Co., ran two cars to the Moore's Creek Battleground Thursday, making three trips each, carrying five passengers to the car. This beats the horse and buggy business and makes a much more agreeable ride.

Crops are reported looking fine and the outlook now is for a good yield, especially of corn. Cotton and peanuts are not so good on account of bad stands, due to the unfavorable Spring.

Mrs. Gabe H. Croom, of Wilmington, spent the day here Friday.——Miss Jeannette Moore has returned from Washington and resumed her duties in the postoffice.

CAPTURED BIG DISTILLERY.

Orange County Outfit Was Running Night and Day.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Greensboro, N. C., July 25.—Deputy Collector George P. Crutchfield returned today from Hillsboro, where he and a deputy sheriff raided a big still in Orange county Wednesday night.

J. G. Gates, a white man who was in charge of the still, was placed in Orange jail. A negro who was about the still jumped in Little river when he saw the officers and made his escape. The kettle was of 300 gallons capacity. The still itself had a capacity of 150 gallons and was working night and day.

This was one of the largest plants taken by the officers in many a day. It was formerly located in Durham county, but had been brought across into Orange county a few days ago. The officers found their way to the place by tracking a wagon that had hauled away a wagon load the night before.

The annual convention of the Sunday school and Christian Endeavor will be held at Randleman today, Saturday and Sunday. Among the speakers will be Dr. W. A. Harper and Dr. J. O. Atkinson, of Elon College; Rev. A. B. Kendall, of Burlington, and Charles A. Hines, Esq., of Greensboro. Randleman people are planning to give the best of entertainment to the delegates.

WENT "DEAD" ON TRACKS

Auto Smashed by Railway Engine—Owner Wants $2,000 Damages

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Greensboro, N. C., July 25.—R. T. Amos, of High Point, has brought suit against the Southern Railway Company for $1,000 damages to his automobile and $1,000 additional as punitive damages on account of the collision of a freight engine with his car in High Point a few weeks ago.

In his complaint he says he attempted to cross the track at a time when the gates were up and the way appeared to be clear; that a freight train was approaching the crossing without any bell or whistle sounding; that his car went "dead" on the track. Then he saw a freight train approaching. He tried to get the car pushed out of the way of the approaching engine, but could not do so in time to prevent the collision. He further says that the engineer not only did not attempt to stop his train, though coming up grade, but laughed at his plight as he let his engine come ahead under full steam and strike the machine, practically rendering it worthless.

CARDENIO KING BURIED.

Body Taken to Old Home in Burlington—By Mother's Grave.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Greensboro, N. C., July 25.—The body of Cardenio F. King, the Boston promoter and financier, once prominent in financial world, was carried through here today to Burlington, where the burial took place this afternoon by his mother's grave. The casket was covered with flowers. The funeral party was here about an hour. King was a native of Alamance county and once lived in Greensboro. He has a brother in Burlington and another in Richmond.

Meeting with reverses in his financial career, King became entangled with the law and was convicted of obtaining money under false pretenses. He was sentenced to 14 years in prison by a Massachusetts court. When it had become apparent that he could not live a great while, efforts to secure a pardon were successful, but the red tape attendant upon granting it delayed it until King was dead at the State farm near Boston. Had it been legal to telephone the pardon, King would have died a free man.

IRREGULAR KIDNEY ACTION

Just as soon as kidney and bladder irregularities occur, whether the urine is too frequent, too scanty, is burning, or leaves a full feeling in the bladder, then you have a warning that should start you at once to taking Foley Kidney Pills. You need them, and they are a strong and pure medicine that will help you at once. Try them. —R. R. Bellamy.

GEORGE CARROLL TODD

Nominated by the President as Assistant to the Attorney General

Washington, July 25.—George Carroll Todd, of Virginia, was nominated by President Wilson today to be assistant to Attorney General McReynolds and "trust buster" of the administration to succeed James A. Fowler, of Knoxville, Tenn., who will retire August 1st.

Mr. Todd, now a special assistant to the attorney general, entered the Department of Justice 13 years ago, and was associated with William A. Day, assistant to Attorney General Knox, and the government's first "trust buster." He participated in the government dissolution case against the Northern Securities Company, in which the Supreme Court rendered the first of its sweeping decisions under the Sherman law. He later became assistant counsel for the government in the prosecution of the "hard coal trust," which was in charge of Attorney General McReynolds, when he was a special assistant to Attorney General Wickersham. In the House money trust investigation, Mr. Todd was associate counsel with Samuel Untermeyer for the Pujo committee. He is a native of Smithfield, Va. Mr. Fowler will return to the practice of law in Knoxville. He was appointed "trust buster" by Former President Taft in May, 1911, and during his two-year term has broken the record of all his predecessors in a vigorous enforcement of the Sherman law, having directed and supervised the filing of 67 civil and criminal anti-trust suits, including some of the most important ever undertaken by the government.

First tract.—Beginning at the Southeast corner of a tract of land now in the possession of Mrs. Mills, on the North edge of the old Newbern road, and runs thence Eastwardly with the Northern edge of the said old Newbern road about 288 feet to the Southwestern corner of a tract of land now or lately in the possession of Mrs. Oldenbuttle, and thence with said Oldenbuttle's Western line North 3 deg. E. 2,000 feet to a stake; thence South 89 deg. W about 200 feet to Mills' line; thence with Mills' line South 3 deg. W. to the beginning, containing 10 acres.

2nd. tract.—Beginning in the dividing line between Oldenbuttle's tract and the tract of D. N. Chadwick, the same being the Western line of a tract of land conveyed to Lilly M. R. Oldenbuttle by Steven W. Noble and wife, by deed dated the 27th of October, 1901, and registered in the office of the Register of Deeds of New Hanover County, in Book S, page 422 et seq., and corrected by deed dated the 3rd day of May, 1904, and recorded in Book 13, at pages 344 et seq., of the records of the Register of Deeds of New Hanover County, at a point where said dividing line is intersected by the Northern line of the right of way of the connecting line between the Wilmington & Newbern Railroad, and the Wilmington & Weldon Railroad, and the said points being 600 feet Northwardly from the old Newbern dirt road, and runs thence Northwardly with said dividing line about 1,500 feet to the Northern line of the said tract; thence Eastwardly with the said Northern line 200 feet to the Eastern line of said tract; thence Southwardly with the said Eastern line to the right of way of said railroad; thence Westwardly with said railroad to the beginning, the same being all that part of a tract of land conveyed to the said Lilly M. R. Oldenbuttle by Steven W. Noble and wife as aforesaid, which is now lying North of the said connecting line of railroads, both of which said deeds, for more certainty of description, are made a part hereof.

3rd tract.—Beginning at W. H. Mills' Northwest corner of the Hardwick tract, 200 feet Westwardly from the pine stump marking the old Hardwick line, and runs thence Northwardly 4 deg. 30 min. East 746 feet to a stone marked D. N. C.; thence South 88 deg. E. 1,034 81-100 feet to a stone marked D. N. C.; thence S. 4 deg. 30 min. West 880⅝ feet to a stone marked D. N. C. Wentzenstein's corner; thence North 85 deg. 30 min. W. with Wentzenstein's back line, and the back line of D. N. Chadwick, 626 13-100 feet to a stone in W. H. Mills' back line; thence North 4 deg. 30 min. East 146 feet to Mills' Northeast corner, and thence North 85 deg. 30 min. West 468 71-100 feet to the beginning, containing 20 acres, more or less.

4th tract.—Beginning at a ditch bank at W. H. Mills' and D. N. Chadwick's corner of his 20-acre tract, a stone marked D. N. C.; thence North 40 deg. West 6 chains and 37 links to a stake near a water oak; thence North 45 deg. West 10 chains to a stake on a cart road; thence North 76¼ deg. West 11 chains and 96 links to a stake near a cedar tree on the East side of a neighborhood road; thence along the East edge of said road North 10 deg. 45 min. East 30 chains and 82 links to a cypress knee on the bank of the South side of Smith's Creek; thence up the various courses of said creek to a large cypress tree a little above a woodland; thence due East 81 links to a lightwood post near and on the South side of a large hollow black gum tree; thence due South 32 chains and 90 links to a stake in said D. N. Chadwick's Northern line of his 20-acre tract; thence with said line North 88 deg. West 2 chains and 68 links to a stone marked D. N. C., a corner of the said D. N. Chadwick's 20-acre tract; thence with said Chadwick's line of said tract South 4½ deg. West 11 chains and 44 links to the beginning, containing 02¼ acres.

All of said land hereinbefore described being the same conveyed to W. A. Simpkins by D. N. Chadwick, Jr., by deed duly registered in the office of the Register of Deeds of New Hanover County, in Book 62, page 73.

Said sale is made by reason of the failure of W. A. Simpkins and wife to pay off and discharge the indebtedness described in said deed of trust.

If there was an American Federation of Labor lobby, let's have some more of the prob, while we are at it.

Phainclothesmen in Wilmington seem to rile some people as much as fancy dressed women do others.

If the average man of 75 consumes 1,300 times his own weight, some of our old friends have eaten a mountain range of rations.

The automobile and good roads are charged with empty country churches on Sunday in Kansas. Wrong. The trouble is in the people.

If the men had to hang over hot stoves in stiffling kitchens and cook up the daily rations there wouldn't be any these days.

Asheville and Richmond and others are talking about "swimming holes for our boys." Well, that's one thing we do not especially need around Wilmington.

Until we quit allowing conditions that result in burning factory operatives to death we needn't be so indignant or horrified about Bulgarian butcheries.

He who laughs last laughs best. The fellow who has been suffering in his Winter suit can now walk up and take advantage of the midsummer reductions.

Where is the old fashioned lady who used to wear a sunbonnet and enough calico in one plain, unassuming dress to make a dozen modern gowns?

"Et tu watermelon."—Baltimore Sun. "Et three"—Columbia State. If you could have access to the kind coming into Wilmington by the boat load, the score would be bigger'n that, tu.

The Turks have actually invaded Bulgaria and the old lady is on her knees begging the powers for help, and none is forthcoming. Never was national hoggishness so promptly and amply rewarded.

Well, this is one Press Convention when high-brow discourses dry as dust were conspicuous by absence. Payment of subscriptions in advance and kindred subjects of a practical nature discussed by newspaper workers filled the programme.

"The North Carolina editors and the International Bible Students are meeting in Asheville. Somehow, spotless and godly souls just naturally gravitate toward one another."—Columbia State. G'wan. Contrasts always attract each other.

The mosquito caused 1,500 cases of malaria in Greensboro last Summer, which in turn cost the city a sum estimated at $63,000. It would take a good deal less than that to abolish the mosquito. Wonder what the Wilmington balance sheet would show

We will have to hand it to Godwin! There is a scheme on foot to make the Lumber river navigable as far up as Lumberton, and our able (?) Representative was instrumental in having the government to appropriate the vast sum of $2,000 for the improvement of this stream. If work is begun at once the money will last perhaps 20 minutes. Walton Bethune should have gotten more than that for a home enterprise when he went up to swear in as clerk to Godwin's committee.—St. Paul's Messenger.

THE PROBLEM SOLVED.

An English artisan working in this country has found and successfully applied the solution of the problem of the high cost of living, both for European workmen in this country and for Americans. The secret is that on coming to this country where he has made four times as much a week as he did in England, he maintained the economical scale of living that he had to practice in the old country. He was living well enough before, hence his philosophy is sound.

A Wall Street man ran across him and told the Wall Street Journal about it. "I have not traveled around the world as extensively as William J. Bryan," he said, "nor have I studied history as closely as Woodrow Wilson, but I got an international education a few days ago when I sat down with an English artisan and asked him about conditions on both sides of the water. He said:

"'I am getting $4.80 a day in this country, against $7 a week in the old country; but there I paid one pound a month for rent; now I pay three pounds, six shillings, or $18. My boy on the other side was just an apprentice without wages. Here he is getting $12 a week. If I lived in this country as I have seen my fellow workmen living, I would not be getting anything ahead, but my family just made up its mind at the start to live exactly as we did in Old England, and put the balance in the bank; and we are doing it right merrily. Over there we had meat once a week, and we shall have it just that number of times in America, and no more. My fellow workmen, I see, are eating meat three times a day, and growling about the price of it. My boy and I are just as happy and contented, and instead of growling, are sticking the majority of our wages right in the savings bank.'"

To be sure, this is no more than foreign laborers of certain other nationalities have been doing; they kept their standard of living, but their standard was low, and they have made little progress as citizens. But the Englishman is a man of inteligence, evidently; and such a man must have had a standard in the old country that kept him on a higher level than that of the classes we speak of.

His system has a lesson for Americans as well as for the foreign laborer of his own kind. It is the rule in this country for a man to at once increase his expenditures when his income is increased. The more the average worker gets the more he spends, and the less he has in cash at any given time. Many a wage earner knows it is a fact that when he made $10 a week he had more surplus cash than he had when he reached $20 a week. As prosperity has been extended in prosperous America, so has prodigality. Extravagance has grown apace. Simple tastes have expanded with good times. Instead of maintaining a standard of living already the highest in the world, and salting away the increased wage, we have spent the increase to gratify wants that might very well have gone unsatisfied. The native worker who has held to his old standards and saved the surplus is the best illustration of what we are saying. He gets along as well as his fellows who spend their all, and his savings bank account is a bulwark against misfortune and old age. True, the cost of living has increased, but the cost of living high is what has played the mischief. Economy has ceased to be a national virtue. The youth of today spends more in a week than his grandfather saw in a twelvemonth. The wage earner who can practice the Englishman's philosophy of "meat once a week," figuratively speaking, is lucky.

IT IS TO LAUGH

Sleek and prosperous Republican Senators, ertswhile apostles of sunshine, prosperity and good cheer, are amusing in a tragic role. Garbed in sackcloth and besprinkled with ashes, picturing everlasting doom as the certain result of a lower tariff, they make the country laugh. The country is onto them. Their argument is old and threadbare. Soup kitchens no longer frighten. The Providence Journal takes up its own Senator, Henry F. Lippitt, "advance agent of calamity", and handles him in a fashion altogether enjoyable, as follows:

"Senator Henry F. Lippitt, of Rhode Island, who has been a constant guest at Uncle Sam's soup kitchen for several years past when the infant industry pap has been handed out, has wasted no time in beginning to beat the tom-toms and sound the mournful wail of universal hunger and the death of industry. Mr. Lippitt, standing in his seat in the Senate on Friday, made the statement that 'the proposed tariff bill even at this very moment is stopping the industries of my State.'

"We would like to ask Mr. Lippitt what he means by this statement, what industries of his State have been stopped by the proposed tariff bill and whether he has not yet learned the lesson that the day has gone by when men can stand up and deliberately fool the country when the facts are at hand for anybody to ascertain.

"All through the last National campaign Mr. Lippitt and a few other beneficiaries of a vicious and indefensible tariff spent thousands of dollars in this State in advertising the almost immediate coming of soup kitchens and black distress. He is at the same game today in the Senate. It is astonishing that Mr. Lippitt should imagine his words on this subject can possibly have any weight either with the Senate or with the country at large, when every man who can read knows exactly what his connection has been with the protected industries, with the framing of the existing tariff schedules."

It is good to be alive in times like these, when there appears a sincere effort at Washington to give attention to the man who has to get his by working for it, and not as a beneficiary of an iniquitous tariff law; when the lamentations of the tariff hog gain nobody's ear, and when everything, even the crops, seem to have conspired to prevent a made-to-order panic to prevent legislation in behalf of the masses with only the proper regard for the interests of the privileged gentlemen who have been running the United States government for their own selfish purposes.

BURNING PEOPLE

Our faith in what Judge Risden Tyler Bennett used to call a "continental hell" is materially strengthened every time there is a holacaust like that at Binghampton, New York, this week. Somebody is responsible for these things and whoever is cannot be punished sufficiently in this world, even though the extreme penalty were invoked. Rotten politics and corruption in office being the father of most civic ills, we suppose that it is to blame for allowing fire-trap factories to be built and operated. Building laws are violated and laws for the protection of operatives are violated, and although these terrible occurrences have been more than trerrible enough and more than often enough to inspire rigid enforcement of such laws, violations continue and nothing is done to prevent future loss of life. A more horrible crime cannot be imagined than cooping up scores of girls and women in a tinder box of a factory that is unequipped with proper fire escape facilities, and allowing them to be roasted wholesale as was the case at Binghampton. There need be no surprise when a crowded upper-story, filled with highly inflammable stuff, with inadequate means of escape, catches fire and burns in the twinkling of an eye, roasting to death the helpless people at work therein. New York and all other States have plenty of the Binghampton and the Triangle factories, and will have them next year, for while these horrors shock the public they do not seem to spur on anybody to take preventative measures. "How many more lives must be given over to so hideous a sacrifice before the commonest safeguards against fire have been established about all our factory works?" asks the New York World. A sweeping conviction and punishment of those responsible for non-enforcement of law would help, but these gentlemen rarely ever get their dues. They will have plenty to answer for, however, when the final books are audited.

PARKS A REAL BENEFIT

Give thought to the subject of parks for the people. There is a great deal more in it than might be imagined off hand. Wilmington hasn't reached the point, perhaps, where the need of parks has become serious, but unless it provides such places, the time will come. The proximity of the beach, easy facilities for getting out, has relieved a situation that would even now be otherwise felt keenly, but there are a great many people who can't afford the beach outings that numerous others enjoy and think nothing of. Nearly every city is realizing how much parks mean to the citizenship and efforts are being made nearly everywhere for an extension of these profitable pleasure grounds. Says the Times Dispatch:

"Richmond is waking up to the tremendous value of parks. Our growth demands more breathing space; our congestion seeks outlet in public squares where private yards and gardens no longer exist. Even the vacant lot is gone. We are also learning the worth of parks to keep folks in working trim and to preserve health, both of body and morals. We are using the parks—that is why there are a lot of park problems. We rejoice in the difficulties. They certainly mean public interest in more, better equipped and beautiful public grounds."

Wilmington has taken some steps in the matter, and development ought to be rapid. The park property at Greenfield Lake should be developed right along. Evenings there amid pleasant surroundings, spiced with public concerts, would go far toward banishing monotony and discontent, make people happier, touch up life. At the rate the city is growing, there is no time to be lost in securing ample park facilities now. The ladies who waged such a vigorous though unsuccessful campaign for a children's playground sometime back, should not let the subject die.

THE PARCEL POST

The postmaster general let the cat out of the bag when he announced an extension of the benefits of the popular parcel post and we do not think that however much Congress may be inclined to break up his arrangements as announced, it will be able to make any reduction. The public has had a taste and it is good, and naturally wants more. Of course there is no disposition to make the railroads suffer actual loss as a result of it, but as for the express companies, who has any sympathy for them? They have waxed fat to these many years in a monopoly of the small package transportation, and if the parcel post eats into their overgrown dividends, the public should worry! Reasonable rates granted by them years ago would have postponed the parcel post indefinitely, perhaps forever, if the rates had been fair enough. The New York Journal of Commerce is of the opinion that the "Senate can hardly check the innovation even if disposed to do so," and it blames the Senate for having insisted on bestowing on the postmaster general "broad and vague authority," which if the postmaster general chooses to exercise, "the ultimate tribunal before which he will be called to account is simply that of public opinion." And public opinion in this case would give the defendant the verdict. The parcel post in foreign countries long ago was worked out to the last degree of utility, and what has been done abroad can be done here, however much the railroads and express companies object. The matter is but one incident of a new era in which the rights and interests of the forgotten people are to be supreme, after many fat years for corporations and monopolies.

Unless Attorney General McReynolds can assure us that the rates now obtaining will be maintained, we beg him not to dissolve the so-called Bell telephone trust. In the light of the oil trust dissolution, we suppose it is too much to hope that there will be any reduction in this new case.

CURRENT COMMENT.

The fact is the severe restriction or abolishment of the future contract, as purposed by the Clark "rider" would be a staggering blow to every part of that vast field of legitimate interests comprised in the production, the merchandizing and manufacture of cotton. Upon the entire country, it would fall grievously; but upon the South and the Southern farmer, it would fall disastrously. It behooves the people of the South to bestor themselves while there yet is time and bring to bear upon the Senate every rightful means at their command to defeat this ill-advised and really outrageous tax that is proposed.—Atlanta Journal.

"Personally, I believe in the greatest liberty of the press. When I was judge of the criminal court of Buncombe the Asheville papers saw fit to criticise me severely. Some of my friends tried to persuade me to have a certain editor arrested for contempt, but I told them that I would do no such thing, for I believed as long as newspapers gave the facts about the case of a judge, or any other public officer, that they had a right to indulge in any criticism, however harsh it might be; that they had a perfect right to express the opinion that I was an unjust or tyrannical judge, or that my decisions were outrageous, or as far as I was concerned, I was a disgrace to the bench and should be impeached; that this was their prerogative, and they had a perfect right to express their views, however much I naturally disliked or disagreed with them."—Judge Thos. A. Jones, before State Press Association at Asheville.

Neither false modesty nor false sentiment afflicts Josephus Daniels, Secretary of the Navy. As the momentous hour when the Panama Canal is to be opened approaches, many suggestions, personal, political, historical and international, are advanced by those who would give to the ceremony a tinge of romance or courtesy, but Mr. Daniels is oblivious to them all. If the head of the Navy Department knows himself, and he thinks he does, he will be first to pass from sea to sea, and he will be found during the entire proceedings on the bridge of the good battleship Oregon. Probably this decision will be very generally approved. Democrats have been standing on the curb for many years watching their opponents go past in stately array. Now that they have an official status, what could be more appropriate than their appearance at the head of such processions as may fall within their jurisdiction We trust that both banks of the canal will be lined with enthusiastic Republicans.—New York World.

"The alleged sins that are to be laid at the door of Senator Overman, once the campaign is formally under way, are largely those of omission. Critics will say more or less frankly that his whole political career has been marked by indecision and shuffling, that he has seldom been militant and positive. For example, they will say that the Senator was hard to place in the last Senatorial contest, that both the Simmons and Kitchin forces expected his aid and that both were largely disappointed. They will say that his failure to take a stand in these political contests when something positive and deunite was demanded have been followed by giving only indifferent or negative support to the political policies of which President Wilson is the exponent. Indeed, the charge will be flatly made that Mr. Overman was a progressive and Wilson man, with certain very noticeable reservations' Opponents have it catalogued how the Senator, at a critical period of the pre-convention campaign, gave to the press a statement saying how he favored Wilson, but stoutly advising against 'instructions,' which was what the Underwood forces wanted, but by no means what the friends of Wilson had expected. They recall that if everybody in North Carolina had favored Wilson with such indifferent support as this—support with a string to it—Mr. Wilson might never have been nominated.—Greensboro News.

GIRL SUFFERED TERRIBLY

At Regular Intervals—Says Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound completely cured her.

Adrian, Texas.—"I take pleasure in adding my testimonial to the great list and hope that it will be of interest to suffering women. For four years I suffered untold agonies at regular intervals. Such pains and cramps, severe chills and sickness at stomach, then finally hemorrhages until I would be nearly blind. I had five doctors and none of them could do more than relieve me for a time.

"I saw your advertisement in a paper and decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took seven boxes of it and used two bottles of the Sanative Wash, and I am completely cured of my trouble. When I began taking the Compound I only weighed ninety-six pounds and now I weigh one hundred and twenty-six pounds. If anyone wishes to address me in person I will cheerfully answer all letters, as I cannot speak too highly of the Pinkham remedies."—Miss JESSIE MARSH, Adrian, Texas.

Hundreds of such letters expressing gratitude for the good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has accomplished are constantly being received, proving the reliability of this grand old remedy.

The Farmer's Prosperity

During the past ten years the Farmers of the country have come into their own. They have grown somewhat larger crops by intensive methods, but the real reason of their prosperity is that they have handled their affairs more carefully and have become Business Men as well as Farmers.

A prime requisite in the proper handling of a Farmer's business is a checking account at the Bank. No merchant would try to conduct his business without a checking account, and no Farmer should try to do so.

The Growth of Permanent Teeth is a more important consideration than many people will realize. If you wish an even set of teeth, a little attention in their early growth, will build an attractive set of teeth.

It requires a long continuous effort, for nature to build a set of teeth which must last for life. It is worth your effort to have a systematic habit of giving them several minutes of care daily. To keep them free from decay, is the secret of teeth that create delight from year to year.

One reason my operations do more than their intended purpose—patients become aroused to give teeth more thoughtful care.

J. B. NEELEY FOUND GUILTY

Judge Rountree Holds Near-Beer Law to be Constitutional—Defendant Convicted on Admissions of Defense

Holding the near-beer act of 1911 to be constitutional and concurring in the view of the State's attorneys that all malt concoctions or mixtures containing any trace of alcohol come within the meaning of the first section of the statute, Judge Rountree yesterday afternoon instructed the Superior Court jury in the case of J. B. Neeley, a young white man, indicted for sale of "No-Tax," that if they believed the evidence of the defendant himself, that he had sold the stuff as alleged, and that of his witnesses, that it contained alcohol, though of less than one-tenth of one per cent, which amount the defense claimed was permitted under the statute relating to carbonated drinks, that they should return a verdict of guilty.

After deliberating for an hour and a quarter the jury at 5:40 P. M., returned a verdict of guilty. The case occupied practically all the time of the court for two days and the final outcome of it is of vital interest to Wilmington. In the Recorder's court the defendant was fined $500 and costs for sale of the stuff. The defense will likely take the case on to the Supreme Court for a ruling on the constitutality of the act.

The case took a turn late in the afternoon that was unexpected by the attorneys for the defense, who had proceeded on the theory that an amount of alcohol up to one-tenth of one per cent was allowed, which is the law relating to carbonated drinks, though County Solicitor Peschau intimated Thursday that the State would probably be able to show that in the particular beverage under consideration no amount of alcohol was allowed by law. County Solicitor Peschau yesterday afternoon, after argument had been made by three attorneys, one for the State and two for the defense, called attention of the court to the near-beer act of 1911 and the decision of the Supreme Court in the Dannenburg case, from Charlotte, defining what is near-beer, which, under the statute and decision of the court, includes all concoctions ar mixtures containing malt. The jury was sent from the room and the point argued at length by the attorneys, the court finally holding with the State.

The defense admitted from the start that the defendant had made the sale of the stuff as alleged; the State admitted yesterday that the beverage was non intoxicating, though containing alcohol. The State adduced evidence of two chemists to show that samples of "No-Tax" analyzed by them in Wilmington contained alcohol varying in quantity from a slight trace to one-half of one per cent. The defense, on the other hand, showed by a no less personage than the brewmaster and general manager of the brewery of the Robt. Portner Brewing Co., of Alexandria, Va., that the stuff, manufactured especially for the Wilmington trade, contained only from one-seventh to one-eighth of one per cent of alcohol when it left the brewery, this acting as a preservative. The defense advanced the proposition that the samples of the beverage analyzed for the prosecution in this case was either tampered with after it left Neeley's place or the laboratory apparatus at the waterworks pumping station, where all the samples showing trace of alcohol were analyzed except one, did not register correctly because of the vibration in the building from the machinery of the pumping plant.

Judge Rountree charged the jury that the near-beer law under which the indictment had been brought was constitutional. He said that he might be wrong; if he was, it was for the State Supreme Court to say; if the State Supreme Court fails to do its duty, then the case can be taken up to the Supreme Court of the United States, by the defense, if it cares to do so. He then charged the jury that if they believed the testimony of Neeley that he sold the stuff; that if they believed the testimony of his witnesses that the stuff contained alcohol to the extent of seven-tenths to eight-tenths of one per cent., it was their duty to return a verdict of guilty.

Court adjourned for the day, shortly after 5 o'clock, and the verdict of the jury was taken by the clerk. Judgment in the case will be announced this morning. The defendant is represented by A. G. Ricaud and Woodus Kellum, Esqs.

Candidate for Solicitor.

In the argument before the court on the point of law involved there was a sharp tilt between County Solicitor Peschau and A. G. Ricaud, Esq., and Judge Rountree had to call them down pretty strongly, especially the latter, who appeared not to be in any hurry about bringing the war of words to a close. Though apparently friendly enough out of court, Messrs. Peschau and Ricaud have a clash nearly every time they appear in court on opposing sides. Both are hard fighters and they contest every inch of ground in the case in which they are appearing.

Immediately after the controversy Mr. Ricaud asked a Star representative, who was present, to state in today's paper that he was a candidate for the office of county solicitor at the next election, which will be held next year.

No More Jury Trials.

The term of court is practically at an end and Solicitor Homer L. Lyon left on the evening train for his home at Whiteville. This was Mr. Lyon's first court since his appointment as solicitor, but he fell right into the work like an old-timer. Today the case in which Sheriff S. P. Cowan has had himself charged with carrying a concealed weapon, will be argued before Judge Rountree. The defendant was found guilty by the Recorder. The purpose of Sheriff Cowan in causing the indictment to be brought against him was to determine the question that has been raised as to the right of a county officer or township constable to carry a concealed weapon except when in the actual performance of duty, that is, when he has a paper to serve. The test case that has been brought alleges that Sheriff Cowan carried a pistol concealed while out on an automobile ride with a party of friends. The sheriff contends that he is on duty all the time and that this being so he has the right to go armed all the time. The case will go on to Supreme Court for a ruling.

Melvin Horne Released.

Melvin Horne, formerly a deputy sheriff, who plead guilty a few days ago to the charge of embezzling funds from Sheriff Cowan by whom he was employed to collect taxes, was released yesterday afternoon. Horne told the court that he was addicted to the drug habit and that the money he was accused of embezzling was taken while under the influence of the drug. The amount taken was $501. Horne remained away for several weeks, finally returning to the city and surrendering. He has been in jail for the past few months and during that time has been under the care of physicians, who have gradually broken him of the habit. Judge Rountree sentenced Horne to two years in jail with privilege of the County Commissioners to hire him out.

Horne yesterday made satisfactory settlement with Sheriff Cowan of the amount he is said to have taken; paid the costs in the case and entered into an agreement with Chairman M. S. Willard, of the Board of Commissioners, by which he is hired to his mother for the nominal sum of $1 a week until otherwise ordered. Horne has agreed to abstain from the use of all alcoholic liquors and also from drugs except as administered by a reputable physician and it is also set forth in the agreement that he is to be of good behavior towards all good citizens and if necessary he is to provide affidavits to show that he has kept the agreement. Upon violation of any of the stipulations he may be taken into custody and the sentence imposed a few days ago carried out.

FIRE DESTROYS RESIDENCE

Home of Mr. C. L. Taylor, at Wrightsville Sound, Burned Yesterday Afternoon—Owned by Mr. E. C. Craft—Loss $5,000

Fire starting, it is supposed, from a defective chimney flue in the kitchen, destroyed the handsome two-story Croft residence at Wrightsville Sound, owned by Mr. E. C. Craft and occupied by Mr. C. L. Taylor, between 12 and 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Mr. Craft estimates his loss at $5,000 with $3,000 insurance. Practically all of Mr. Taylor's furniture with the exception of a piano was burned, and his loss will amount to several hundred dollars.

The fire was discovered in the kitchen a few minutes after 12 o'clock, and immediately the fire department of Wilmington was notified. The firemen were delayed a few minutes in starting by reason of the fact that the fire was outside the city limits and Chief Schnibben had to get permission from the city officials to take the fire apparatus out.

The combination fire automobile consisting of chemical engine, ladders, hose, etc., was sent down and made good time in traveling over the eight miles, arriving in time to save the servant's home and the barn, and also the adjoining residence of Mr. Oscar Pearsall. There was a strong breeze blowing and there is no question but that the fire would have been a much more disastrous one had it not been for the services of the fire department which did efficient work in subduing the flames.

There was a veritable avalanche of sparks from the burning building, and until the arrival of the fire apparatus it did not seem possible to save the adjoining property. Mr. Craft stated last night that he would rebuild at once. The property was purchased only a few months ago from Mrs. G. M. Croft and Mr. Craft expected to move his family there to live this Fall.

ANOTHER BOAT ON CONGAREE

Third Steamer Between Georgetown and Columbia, S. C.

The freight business on the Congaree river between Georgetown and Columbia, S. C., has grown so rapidly in the last few months that a third boat is to be put on. Only a few days ago announcement was made that the second boat had been purchased for service on the river. The new boat is a combination freight and passenger craft. The shipping facilities on the Congaree river is of interest in Wilmington because of the fact that at Georgetown connection is made with the Clyde Line steamer from this port. With reference to the additional boats the Columbia Record Thursday had the following:

"A combined passenger and freight boat for service on the Congaree river between Columbia and Georgetown will be put into operation soon, according to the plans of the company management, and with the latest acquisition to the traffic department, three boats will be plying the river before the Summer has ended. The third boat under negotiation bears the simple name, 'Ruth.' The boat has three decks, and is generally equipped for excursion purposes as well as for the handling of freight.

"The Ann Elizabeth, which was recently purchased from a concern in Georgia, is at Georgetown undergoing inspection. When minor repairs to the machinery and hull have been made she will be put into operation.

"The City of Columbia arrived at the Granby landing Saturday with a full cargo. When she left the wharf yesterday for the return trip to Georgetown she carried a consignment of cotton goods for San Francisco."

MR. FETTER LEAVES SEABOARD

Popular Railroad Man Resigns Commercial Agency to Go With Atlantic Fire Insurance Company, in This State

Shippers, business men and the public generally will learn with regret that Mr. F. A. Fetter, for the past eight or ten years in the service of the company at Wilmington, has resigned the position of commercial agent of the Seaboard Air Line in this city, effective August 1st, at which time he will leave for Raleigh to become special agent of the Atlantic Fire Insurance Co., one of the oldest and foremost of the North Carolina companies in this State.

Mr. Fetters' resignation was tendered to the proper officials some time ago and its acceptance, with general regret, was received a few days since. While Mr. Fetter's retirement from the railway service and his decision to leave Wilmington is greatly deplored in his wide circle of friends here and in this section of the State, it is tempered by the gratifying knowledge that the change will much more comfortably fix him and that in his new field will have a much larger sphere of business development.

Mr. Fetter has grown up in the service of the Seaboard Air Line, having begun his railroad career with the road some 20 years ago. He came to Wilmington seven years ago and was for about four years freight agent of the system in this city, later having been made commercial agent with office uptown. During his service here, the business of the Seaboard, it is safe to say, from the terminals that have been built to accommodate the traffic, has trebled and perhaps quadrupled. He is yet a young man of engaging personality, splendid affability and with a keen insight into men and affairs. Prominent in the commercial life of the city the past seven years, his removal to Raleigh will be a distinct loss to Wilmington, which will part with Mr. Fetter and his excellent family with extreme regret.

Mr. Fetter's successor as commercial agent of the Seaboard here has not yet been named.

MELON AND VEGETABLE CROPS

Review of Trucking Conditions Covering Movements Now On

The Carolina Fruit and Truckers' Journal of yesterday has the following review of the trucking conditions:

The daily movement of vegetables, melons, etc., out of this section continues regularly although in somewhat diminished volume, as the season for the Spring and early Summer will soon be over. The movement at this time covers potatoes, cucumbers, corn, beans, squash, melons, peppers, cantaloupes, tomatoes, etc. The potato movement to date totals 2,289 carloads, against 2,404 cars for the same time last year. Cucumbers show a total movement of 66 cars, against 77 cars last year; beans 118 cars, against 141 cars last year; cabbage 255 cars, against 368 cars last year; melons 45 cars, against 197 cars last year; mixed vegetables 1,023 cars, against 1,201 cars last year; cantaloupes 61 cars, against 50 cars last year; or a total of 4,391 carloads for the season to date, against 4,471 cars for the same time last year.

It is with pleasure that we are able to report an increase in potato price of 50 to 75 cents per barrel over the prices prevailing at the time of our last issue. Cantaloupes and melon prices are ruling quite satisfactory and the growers are making some money. Peppers, eggplant, green corn and other things are about holding their own and the same is true of their other items on the list. The daily movement by express continues heavy, surpassing the figures for the same time last year.

Up to this time cantaloupes have moved out of the Maxton-Laurinburg and Laurel Hill sections to the tune of about 250 cars under refrigeration exclusive of the daily movement by express, which has been quite heavy. Cantaloupes have also been moving from the Faison, Calypso and Mt. Olive sections, five cars having gone out from that section yesterday, with 16 cars from the Maxton-Laurinburg section. The bulk of the crop has been moved, however, and next week will about wind up the season.

At that time watermelons will begin to move from the same section and this movement will continue for three or four weeks. Watermelon prices are doing fairly well and especially for good stock. Over 2,000 carloads of watermelons have already moved out of the State of Georgia, while Florida has shipped about 1,500 cars this season. South Carolina is shipping freely at this time and the Old North State will follow suit next week.

Crop conditions generally throughout North Carolina and South Carolina are good, fully up to the average and especially is this true with reference to cotton and corn, the two staple crops of these two States. Virginia is shipping freely of potatoes and vegetables and will begin next week to move watermelons. The potato crop in that State has panned out much heavier than was anticipated some weeks ago and the increase in prices during the past few days will mean much to the farmers and growers throughout that territory. Good rains have fallen all over these States, and taken all in all, the conditions at this time are highly favorable for most substantial returns to the growers all along the line throughout North and South Carolina and Virginia.

COAST LINE EXHIBITION

Will Visit Toronto, Canada, and Points in New England States

The Atlantic Coast Line has arranged to advertise "The Nation's Garden Spot" this Fall in Toronto, Canada, and a number of cities throughout the New England States. An exhibition has been gotten together similar to the one used at several big fairs in the West last Fall, only the exhibit this year is a big improvement over the last one, the aim of the road being to make them better each year. A big fair is to be held at Toronto, Canada, August 23rd to September 8th and the Coast Line will have its exhibit there for this entire period. Products from Virginia, North and South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama and Florida will be represented in the exhibit. The exhibit will be in charge of Mr. E. N. Clark, agricultural and immigration agent, of Virginia, North and South Carolina, and Mr. Wilbur McCoy, agricultural and immigration agent for Florida, Georgia and Alabama. They will leave here August 18th for Toronto.

NORTH CAROLINA GUN SHOOT

Programme of State Shoot to be Held in Wilmington August 12th and 13th—Large Number of Prizes Offered

The programme for the tenth annual North Carolina State Shoot to be held in Wilmington August 12th and 13th have been prepared, and copies are now being sent to the various clubs in the State by Dr. J. H. Dreher, secretary of the local Gun Club. Prizes to the amount of more than $250 have been offered by the New Hanover club, under whose auspices the shoot is being held, and it is expected that the event will be largely attended by sportsmen not only from this State but also from adjoining States.

On the first day of the meet there will be a special event of 100 targets for the championship of North Carolina, and a gold medal will be given the winner. The regular programme for this day will consist of ten separate events for which $100 will be given in prizes to the winners. The division of the prize fund will be according to a percentage basis, the highest winner to get 40 per cent, the next 30 per cent; third, 20 per cent, and the fourth, 10 per cent. On the second day of the shoot there will also be ten events and the prize money will be $100. There will be an extra event of shooting at 50 targets for which there will be suitable prizes awarded.

Mr. Charles E. Hooper, manager of the Oceanic Hotel, has given a silver cup to be awarded the amateur who makes the highest record during the entire shoot. There will be an entrance fee for each of the events and this money will be added to the prize funds to be given those making the highest records.

Reduced round trip railroad rates have been secured from all points in North Carolina on the week of the shoot on account of the State Firemen's Tournament, which will be held here the same week. At this meeting it is expected to re-organize the association and bring it up to the standard required by the Inter-State Association so that next year in addition to the prize money secured from the local shooters and business men the $100 that the Interstate Association gives for each day of a shoot may also be secured. On account of the live interest of the local members here there is every probability that the meet will be held here next year also.

One of the especially interesting features of the meet will be the fancy shooting of Mr. and Mrs. Topperwine, who will give exhibitions on both days. Those who have seen them shoot on their previous visits here know that this alone is worth going many miles to see.

Dr. Dreher is especially pleased with the aid he has received, not only from the members of the New Hanover club but also from the business men of the city, who have contributed liberally to the prize fund which has been raised. In connection with the shoot there will be a number of social events. On account of the close proximity of Wrightsville Beach to the grounds of the gun club it is expected that most of the visitors will stay at the hotels on the beach.

DIDN'T FIND HUMPHREY.

Sheriff Cowan Returned Yesterday From Unsuccessful Chase.

After a trip through Eastern North Carolina which extended over a period of two days and nights, Sheriff Cowan, Deputy Sheriff Kelly and Constable Davis arrived in Wilmington yesterday morning at 2:30 o'clock tired, hungry and sleepy. They were after Joe Humphrey, the negro charged with the murder of Penny Smith Saturday night, but were unable to find any trace of him. Sheriff Cowan thinks that he has left the State.

The party traveled in Sheriff Cowan's automobile, and made good time, visiting Jacksonville, Richlands, Pollocksville and other towns in the eastern part of the State. They covered the ground thoroughly, and it is safe to say that if Humphrey turns up in the section traversed by them that he will be arrested. It was thought that he might go back to his old home at Pollocksville, but it now seems that he was too wise for that, and went in a different direction.

The negro arrested in Wilson proved not to be the man wanted here. A diligent search will be kept up for Humphrey, and descriptions of him have been sent to all the nearby towns and cities and unless he keeps to the woods he is almost sure to be captured sooner or later.

LEG WAS FRACTURED

Mr. E. O. Cole, an Aged Watchmaker, Stumbled Through Door

Mr. E. O. Cole, a watch repairer, who has a shop at No. 12 North Second street, stumbled through the door of his store and fell to the pavement breaking one of his legs yesterday about noon. Mr. Cole was already a cripple in this limb caused by it being badly lacerated by an engine several years ago when he was a marine engineer. Owing to his advanced age, which is 78 years, his recovery will be a great deal slower than it would be if he were a younger man.

He was taken to the Walker Memorial Hospital where he was given the necessary surgical attention. He was reported last night as resting as well as could be expected. The accident was caused by Mr. Cole stumbling over the board at the bottom of the door. The level of the floor is only a few inches above the pavement. When he fell the full weight of his body was thrown against the crippled leg with the result that it was badly fractured.

MR. A. D. CAPPS DEAD

Died at Home at Masonboro Sound Yesterday After Long Illness

Friends will regret to learn of the death of Mr. A. D. Capps, which occurred at his home at Masonboro Sound yesterday morning at 11 o'clock after an illness extending over a period of a year or more. He was a native of this county, and was about 35 years old. He was a farmer by occupation. He had a wide circle of friends who sympathize tenderly with the family in their bereavement.

He is survived by his wife and three small children, his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Capps, of Masonboro Sound; three brothers, Messrs. John W. Capps and Louis Capps, of Norfolk, Va., and Mr. George Capps, of Wilmington, and one sister, Mrs. J. A. Hines, of Wilmington.

The funeral and interment will take place this afternoon at Masonboro Baptist church. The services will be conducted by the pastor, Rev. Mr. Harrell.

UNIQUE EAR OF CORN.

Mr. R. A. Montgomery Growing New Variety on His Farm Near City.

"He who makes two blades of grass grow where only one grew before is a public benefactor, and if this is true then Mr. R. A. Montgomery is entitled to be placed in this clas for he has made 16 ears of corn grow where ordinarily only one ear grows.

The Star received from him yesterday a unique ear or cluster of ears of corn which was grown on his farm in East Wilmington. Each one of the 16 ears of corn has the shape and appearance of the usual ear of corn with the exception of the fact that they are smaller. They have grown in a cluster which looks somewhat like a large ear of corn. The grains are well developed.

It was turned over to the agricultural editor for his expert inspection, but notwithstanding his 20 years experience in farming he was unable to account for the strange phenomenon. He was of the opinion that the variety should be kept in existence for surely it would be worth while, he reasoned, to increase the production of corn 16-fold, especially in these days when the average man has such a hard time making both ends meet when the monthly bills come round.

WILMINGTON SHRINE CLUB

Organized Last Night at Well Attended Meeting of Shriners

At a largely attended and enthusiastic meeting of Shriners in the Masonic Temple last night, the Wilmington Shrine Club was organized. It is purely a social club and is organized for the purpose of bringing the members of the order in Wilmington in touch with each other. There is only one Shriners' Temple in the State, located in Charlotte, and the other towns where there are Shriners have to content themselves with clubs, such as the one formed here last night. The officers elected follow: President, H. E. Longley; vice president, E. W. Haselden; secretary and treasurer, C. B. Newcomb. There was an interesting discussion of ways and means of keeping alive the interest among the half hundred Shriners in Wilmington. The club will meet at least once a month and probably oftener.

GASOLINE WAS IGNITED.

Young Courtland McEachern Painfully Burned Yesterday Morning.

Courtland McEachern, the 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. McEachern, of Highland Place, was painfully burned yesterday morning about 8 o'clock by the ignition of some gasoline which had leaked out of a tube in a gasoline engine which is used for pumping water at the home. The young fellow started to crank the engine and a spark from the battery ignited the gasoline vapor. Instantly he was almost entirely enveloped in the flames, but fortunately was not burned about the face. His body and limbs are badly burned, however. Dr. Morris M. Caldwell rendered the necessary medical attention, and the young fellow was reported last night as getting along nicely.

Chance for North Carolina

Charlotte Chronicle: "One thousand tubs of Elgin butter, containing 30,000 pounds, have just been shipped to a cold storage plant at Wilmington and will, of course, be used to supply the trade in that city. This shipment is a very small part of the total amount of butter the city of Wilmington imports. The price will average probably more than 32 1-3 cents a pound, so that $10,000 goes out of Wilmington for this single consignment. There is no reason at all why that $10,000 should not go into the pockets of North Carolina farmers. Our farmers have many advantages not possessed by the farmes of the North and Central West and they can make just as good butter and make it cheaper."

MRS. EMMA DUKE DEAD

Aged Woman Passed Away Yesterday Morning After Long Illness

Mrs. Emma Duke died yesterday morning at 7:20 o'clock at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. W. Christian, No. 405 Campbell street, after an illness of several months. She was about 60 years of age and is survived by her husband, two daughters, Mrs. W. W. Christian and Miss Mary Stuart Duke, and one son, Mr. George Duke, all of this city.

The funeral will be held this morning at 11 o'clock from the residence, No. 405 Campbell street, conducted by Rev. W. L. Rexford, pastor of Bladen Street Methodist church, assisted by Rev. Dr. A. D. McClure, pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church. The interment will be in Bellevue cemetery.

Mrs. Duke was a member of Bladen Street Methodist church. Many friends of the family extend sympathy in their bereavement.

MADE NOBLE SACRIFICE

Young Man at Wrightsville Beach Recuperating from Operation

Mr. Richard Bowron, son of Mr. James Bowron, president of the Standard Steel Co., of Birmingham, Ala., is spending some time at the Northrop cottage, Wrightsville Beach, recuperating from an operation performed in June when he voluntarily allowed 115 pieces of his skin to be removed and grafted on the arm of an employer of his father's mills who had all the skin burned off one of his arms. Mr. Bowron had to stay in the hospital several weeks but is now getting along nicely. The operation was entirely successfully, it is stated, and every piece of skin grafted on the arm of the other man "took."

PORT OF WILMINGTON

Coming Into the Fulfillment of the City's Dreams

Yesterday afternoon's Charlotte Chronicle: "The seaport of Wilmington did a shipping business during the past year of $60,000,000, these figures being secured from the United States engineers' office. The gain for the year was nearly $2,000,000. Wilmington ranked fourth among Southern ports in exports and has the largest cotton exporting firm in the world, receiving cotton for export from several Southern States. By far the largest item in the shipping trade of Wilmington is cotton, exports of which reached a total of more than $29,000,000. Other large items in the export trade are lumber and cross-ties, tar and fish oil. Among the largest items in the imports are fertilizers and fertilizer ingredients. Wilmington has just begun to realize what an asset she has in the Cape Fear river. The river has a minimum depth of 26 feet between Wilmington and the Atlantic and, while keeping a 30-foot channel in mind, the business men of the city have about come to the conclusion that Wilmington is by no means doing all she can do with a 26-foot channel. And this realization has had a good effect. Eleven big warehouses have been constructed on the river front and the terminal facilities there are steadily being increased. Wilmington is coming into the fulfillment of her dream—that she shall become important to the State at large."

TERRIFIC BATTLE

Bulgars Victorious Over Servians at Tsarevoselo—Peace Preliminaries

London, July 26.—A dispatch to the Daily Telegraph from Bucharest, timed 9 o'clock Friday night, says:

"News has been received from Sofia of a terrific battl ebetween Servians and Bulgarians near Tsarevoselo, on the river Brogalnitza, in which the Bulgarians were victorious. The Greeks helped the Servians, whose casualties were 10,000. It is probable the story is greatly exaggerated."

A dispatch to the Post from Bucharest says that owing to the appeal of the king of Rumania the Servians and Greeks have suspended their forward movement.

Bucharest, July 25.—Greece and Servia today definitely rejected the Rumanian proposal for the conclusion of a provisional armistice during the conference at Nish. The two governments say they can consent to the cessation of hostilities only after the signature of an armistice and of the peace preliminaries.

Where Women Run Cars.

The suggestion that women may be employed as street car conductors in Philadelphia has brought out the fact that the women of Latin America, usually thought of as sheltered, retiring and unprogressive, have been doing this kind of work for years. During the war between Chili and Peru, when all the men of Chili were needed at the front, women took their places on the street cars, and Santiago, Valparaiso and several other cities have had women conductors ever since.

Simplified.

The driver of an automobile is called a chauffeur by those who ride with him, but what pedestrians call him is a whole lot easier to spell.

At a wedding the men nearly always look cross and laugh, and the women look happy and cry.

Robbins tied for the second rank with a score of 43. There were several scores of 42 by other members, the scores all running pretty close together. On account of the high wind all the scores were lower than usual.

EXPERT GIVES REASON.

For Diminishing Supply of Fish in Chesapeake Bay.

Washington, July 25.—One reason for the diminishing supply of shad, bluefish and herring in the Chesapeake Bay and its tributaries by the destruction of the natural food supply of these fish through the extensive use of the menhaden for fertilzer, in the opinion of Dr. E. L. Jones, deputy commissioner of fisheries, who has just returned from a trip through the Virginia fishing teritory. Dr. Jones is attempting to secure co-operation between the Federal government and the States of Virginia and Maryland to conserve the fishing industry of the Chesapeake, which he says will be almost gone in a few years if present destructive methods continue.

The menhaden, although not caught for human food, constitutes the finest food that shad and bluefish can get, Dr. Jones said, but as a result of the fact that tons of menhaden are caught annually and used to make fertilizer, the bluefish are beginning to devour shad. Thus a double crime is being committed, he declared, for the food supply of the shad being taken away, the shad itself is falling prey to other fish.

Assistant Secretary Sweet, of the Department of Commerce, which has charge of fisheries, expressed the opinion today that it would be better if the whole fish question could be considered an inter-State matter and governed entirely by Federal laws.

DANIELS IN 'FRISCO

Gives Views on Woman's Suffrage Before Civic League

San Francisco, July 25.—Secretary of the Navy, Josephus Daniels, told the women of the San Francisco Civic League tonight that whatever the opinion of individuals about the wisdom of women suffrage, "we may as well get ready for the inevitable, for women are going to vote."

"Only last month," he continued, "Illinois gave them the ballot for all except constitutional offices and the present generation will witness complete woman suffrage in every State in the union. And when it comes, the constitution will not be broken and the home wil lnot be dethroned."

"After the Panama canal is opened the battleship fleet of the American navy will be as much in the Pacific waters as in the Atlantic," declared Secretary Daniels today.

"The fleet probably will pass through the canal next April," said the secretary. "Its presence in these waters will mean the establishment of a naval base."

"I am here to examine the sites suggested for a dry dock on San Francisco Bay."

GIRL SLAIN BY SLOW POISON.

Aunt Accused by Coroner of Giving Arsenic to Niece.

New Haven, Conn., July 25.—Mrs. Annie F. Monohan is held criminally responsible for the death last March of her 17-year-old niece, Miss Jennie McNamee, in a finding handed down today by Coroner Mix. The coroner says death was due to white arsenic poisoning administered in "small, repeated doses." There was insurance on Miss McNamee's life to the amount of $2,000, says the coroner. Mrs. Monohan being named as the beneficiary. Mrs. Monohan was arrested some weeks ago.

At the time of her niece's death, continues the coroner, Mrs. Monohan was living with her third husband, "her second husband having died after about ten days' illness, during which he had symptoms similar to those which existed during the illness of Miss McNamee. He also was insured in a benovolent order, his wife being the beneficiary."

MISS WILSON FIGHTS FIRE.

Daughter of the President Calmest of All—Directs Work.

Eagles Mere, Pa., July 25.—Miss Margaret Wilson, daughter of the President, today fought fire and was the calmest of numerous almost panic stricken guests who had been driven from their hotel by a blaze in a cottage nearby. At first, like the rest, Miss Wilson ran out into the driving rain, but later returned and directed the servants to remove her belongings. She then collected half a dozen young women and started fighting the flames. She mingled with the firemen, led the work in cottages adjoining, and gave practical suggestions. From the Murphy cottage adjoining Mrs. Murphy, her daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Johnson, and Mrs. Johnson's two-year-old baby were carried out under the direction of Miss Wilson.

After the President's daughter had managed to calm some of the excitable women, the work went bravely on, and the fire was confined to the one cottage.

Miss Lavine Evans, of Greensboro, is the guest of her brother, Mr. Chas. N. Evans, of Wilmington, at his cottage.

Yesterday's Raleigh News and Observer: "Miss Thelma Maylor left yesterday for a visit to Wrightsville Beach and the western part of the State."

Among the arrivals at the Hanover Inn yesterday were Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Beck and Miss Mary Bell, Birmingham; Mrs. Jiris Alford and Miss Nina Alford, Dillon, S. C.; J. K. Casswell, Sumter; Capt. Q. T. Packer, Clyde Steamship Navahoe.

Following is the programme for the moving picture exhibition at Lumina tonight: Maurice Costello and Miss Clare Kimball, in "What a Change of Clothes Did;" "The Power of Sleep," an Edison comedy picture; and a Lubin production entitled "Who is the Savage?"

The Tidewater Power Company has arranged for what promises to be the greatest fireworks display ever seen at the beach, for Monday night, beginning at 9:30 o'clock. The fireworks will be handled by an expert and will be the most elaborate yet attempted at the resort.

Yesterday brought the usual number of visitors to the beach, there being between 175 and 200 arrivals from Atlanta and other points in Georgia and Alabama. Most of these will remain for ten days or more before returning home. Today and tomorrow a large number of those who came ten days ago will return to their homes.

Mrs. Hunter G. Smith, of Fayetteville, who is spending the Summer at Wrightsville Beach, attended the meeting in Fayetteville Thursday of the board of directors of the Confederate Women's Home, at which Fayetteville was selected as the place for the home. Mrs. Smith is chairman of the Confederate Women's Home, and also chairman of the board of lady managers of the Home.

Owing to the unfavorable weather conditions Aeronaut Johnny Mack had to call off the balloon ascension scheduled for last night. Early in the day the weather bureau reported that the forecast for the night was a strong land wind and with this prospect the Tidewater Power Company decided that the ascension would not be made. With a strong land breeze the chances are that the balloonist would have been taken out to sea for several miles and the task of getting him to shore on a dark night would have been a rather difficult one. The final ascension is announced for this afternoon at 5 o'clock.

Included in the arrivals at the Oceanic Hotel yesterday were Mrs. A. L. Park, Miss Susie Park, Mrs. C. B. Pepler and Mr. and Mrs. J. Z. Elliott, Atlanta; J. R. Powell and J. W. McWilliams, Griffin, Ga.; Mrs. N. C. Willis, Miss Alma Glover, Mr. and Mrs. P. B. DEATH AT BLADENBORO.

Mr. J. Rodney Pait Passes at Age of 22 Years—Funeral.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Bladenboro, N. C., July 25.—Mr. J. Rodney Paid, 22 years of age, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Pait, died here this morning at 2 o'clock. While not entirely unexpected, his death came as a shock to the family and a host of friends. The young man up to the time of his illness about four weeks ago, held a position with the firm of D. McNair & Co., at Hamlet, N. C., and was regarded by his employers as an exceptional young man in many respects. Death came as the result of a severe case of typhoid fever. All members of the family were present when the summons came, including those from a distance, A. H. Pait, Esq., of the Bladen bar, and W. Darden Pait, of Hamlet. The interment was at Galleed cemetery at 4 P. M. today.

FUNERAL NOTICE.

The funeral of Mrs. Emma J. Duke will be held from the residence of her daughter, Mrs. W. W. Christian, 405 Campbell street, at 11 o'clock this (Saturday) morning.

MONETARY DISPUTE.

Plans to Settle Controversy Between Virginia and West Virginia.

Washington, July 25.—To settle the long-standing monetary dispute between Virginia and West Virginia, commissioners representing those commonwealths met in joint session today, following out the suggestion of the Supreme Court, which, in October, 1910, awarded Virginia judgment of $7,182,607 as the amount West Virginia should pay as her part of the public debt of the original Commonwealth. The amount of interest alone is now in dispute.

Virginia's commissioners entered the conference empowered to take final action for that State, but West Virginia's representatives were merely authorized to report to their Governor the results of the conference.

The commissioners were reticent as to the proposals which will form the basis of the discussions, and they were slow to indicate how soon an adjustment may be reached. The conference may be prolonged by disagreements, and by a possible re-opening of the whole controversy.

The Virginia commissioners present were: John B. Moon, of Charlottesville, chairman; Randolph Harrison of Lynchburg; H. T. Wickham, of Richmond; William F. Rhea, of Richmond; J. T. Brown, of Arrington; H. H. Downing, of Front Royal, and Representative H. D. Flood.

The West Virginia commission is composed of Judge John W. Mason, of Fairmont, chairman; Henry Zilliken, of Wellsburg; W. E. Wells, of Newell; J. T. Lenhart and W. T. Ice, Jr., of Kingwood; N. G. Young, of Buchanan; Joseph E. Chilton, of Charleston; R. G. A. Breman, of Parkersburg; John M. Hamilton, of Grantsville; W. D. Ord, of Landgraff, and Joseph S. Miller, of Kenova.

Old Point, Va., July 25.—The representatives of the North Carolina Corporation Commission and the railroad traffic managers were in consultation from 10 A. M. until 6 P. M. here today, and at the adjournment no agreement had been reached, although Chairman E. L. Travis said tonight that they had gotten close together on a number of points.

The conference will probably last until Saturday, and the agreement, if any is worked out, will be submitted to Governor Craig, who is ex-officio chairman of the Legislative Freight Rate Commission.

Rev. Dr. A. D. McClure expects to preach his first sermon at the new Memorial Presbyterian church in East Wilmington tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock.

THE COTTON PRICES ADVANCE

First Substantial Rally in Three Days Occurred Yesterday—Opening Barely Steady With Steady Undertone at Close

New York, July 25.—The first substantial rally that the cotton market has seen in three days occurred this afternoon, when prices advanced 8 to 12 points from lowest in the last hour, and closed unchanged to two points net lower on old crops and one point lower to two higher on late positions, with the undertone steady.

Disappointment over the failure of the much-exploited Southwest rain area to embrace Central and Eastern Texas, together with a sudden introduction of good buying orders by trade interests chiefly accounted for this energetic afternoon upturn.

At the immediate opening the market was barely steady with prices 5 to 11 points lower, the old crops again showing most heaviness under renewed liquidation of July and August. The selling of Fall and Winter months was also on quite a liberal scale early as there seemed to be good confirmation of the rumored rains in Texas and Oklahoma, but the detailed reports at noon first drew attention to the fact that rainfall in Texas was chiefly in the sections producing the least cotton. This made the trade apprehensive about the whole Western rain situation and there was a general tightening on short lines which reached its climax in the late afternoon.

Regarding the Eastern belt there was no change in the favorable situation which has prevailed for a week past and temperatures continued very moderate but buyers were not so hopeful at the close of the day about Texas as they had been previously. The week-end figures were considered rather bullish but had little effect on the market. Notices on about 5,200 bales of July were tendered today and taken up by Wall Street houses.

THE WEEKLY COTTON REVIEW

Drought Conditions Have Been Relieved in Many Sections But the General Situation is Still Regarded Unsettled.

New York, July 25.—Quite general, but light rains developed over much of the Southwest on Thursday and Friday of this week, relieving the drouth in many parts of Texas and Oklahoma and promoting a selling movement in the local cotton market which put new crop position down about $2 per bale.

It was considered doubtful, however, upon careful study of the detailed reports from Texas, if the big producing counties of that State had received sufficient moisture to fully restore the crop position after three weeks of dry, hot weather, and as trade interests proved to be good buyers on the decline, there was a quick upturn near the close today which carried prices up about 10 points from the bottom.

This left the situation very much unsettled again and the week ended with traders seriously in doubt about the position of the Texas crop and facing a big short interest in the market which has been accumulating for the last three days, or ever since it became known that the Southwest was likely to get at least some relief from the recent drouth. Over the Eastern belt showers prevailed almost the entire week, with a drop in temperature of 10 to 20 degrees from the scorching weather noted at the close of last week and crop accounts from that section were uniformly favorable. Activity in old crop months here furnished one of the week's features.

Following a sensational break in July at New Orleans early in the week, holders of August contracts at New York became nervous and finding little probability that Liverpool would take up cotton again as it did last month, abandoned their position, and the cotton coming on a market rather bare of buyers resulted in a break of 63 points, or about $3.25 a bale. In this connection it was understood that freight room for some 4,000 bales of the local stock that had been scheduled for shipment to Liverpool has been cancelled. Among Southern spot markets, it was considered significant that weakness appeared in those markets nearest the points of early movement and an Augusta wire on Friday said sellers were offering new basis of good middling October-November delivery at the price of October New York. The Balkan situation was still a cause for uneasiness, although it apparently has not deterred Liverpool from being a good buyer of American cotton.

HIGHER PRICES IN STOCKS

Leading Issues and Specialties Score Advances of One to Five Points Rise Followed Four Days of Steady Advance

New York, July 25.—What promised to be the most comprehensive movement in the local stock market since the abnormal dullness of the early Summer was witnessed today, when leading issues and specialties scored advances of one to five points.

The rise followed four days of more or less steady advance. Factors that contributed to the market's improvement included higher prices for copper, a favorable German bank statement, an advance in French rents, a prospective large local cash gain for the week, good Union Pacific earnings, further ease in time money accommodations and more favorable crop advices. It is understood that the Bank of England will in the next fortnight strengthen its gold holdings by $20,000,000 bringing its holdings to almost record-breaking figures.

In the face of this favorable budget, Wall Street was little inclined to pay heed to reports of a trust policy by Washington or the spread of the strike in the Michigan Copper mines. It even took for granted that today's developments in the affairs of the New Haven road must be to the advantage of that system.

Not a few gains were canceled in the final dealings, with marked weakness in Canadian Pacific and the tone at the close was rather uneven.

The general bond market was strong for the greater part of the session, but some of the government issues were again prominent for their new low bid and asked quotations, with actual sales of coupon 4s under the previous low quotation. Total sales par value were $1,975,000. Total sales were 392,000 shares including American Tobacco, 400; A. C. BRADSTREET'S REVIEW.

Crop News More Favorable—Wholesale Trade Irregular.

New York, July 25.—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say:

"Crop news, due to beneficial rains is more favorable, feeling in the iron and steel markets is better, money does not appear to be so tight, the stock market reflects a rather healthier undertone; favorable weather has helped retail distribution, railway traffic is enlarging and conservative optimism seems to be spreading.

"On the other hand, trade with wholesale dealers and jobbers reflects more or less irregularity. Some of the irregularity may be attributed to mid-Summer conditions, to restrictions imposed by high rates for money, and to tariff uncertainties. That there are but few dissenting tones as to expectations of good business during the Fall and Winter is significant.

"While the stock market does not manifest much activity, the undertone is stronger, and realizing sales are quite readily absorbed.

"Business failures for the week ending July 24th, were 254, which compares with 252 in 1912.

"Wheat, including flour, exports from the United States and Canada for the week ending July 24th, Galveston not reported, aggregate 3,592,901 bushels against 2,056,958 bushels last year."

crisis and possibly result in a quick overthrow of the Huerta government, a contingency which many Washington officials believe is inevitable, though reports of strengthening of the Federal armies are being promulgated constantly by officials of the Huerta administration.

In the face of the strained situation in Mexico, a concurrent resolution strongly re-affirming the Monroe Doctrine was introduced in the House today by Representative Clark, of Florida. The resolution which was referred to the foreign affairs committee, was directed particularly against people with whom the Caucasion cannot and will not assimilate."

"We hereby re-affirm what is known as the 'Monroe Doctrine' in each and every essential," the resolution read, "and declare our unfaltering allegiance thereto."

"In re-affirming the 'Monroe Doctrine'," concludes the resolution, "we do so with the earnest desire to maintain peace and friendly relations with every nation upon earth because we cannot permit the further extension of any colonization systems of European nations upon any teritory of this hemisphere and particularly shall we object to such colonization by peoples with whom the Caucasian cannot and will not assimilate."

Admiral Cowles, at Guaymas, informed the Navy Department today that Thomas Hind, the American railroad man reported held at Guaymas, Mexico, for ransom, was not a prisoner. He said that Hind went out of the Federal lines near Guaymas, and the insurgents would not allow him to cross back.

Manuel Garcia, of San Antonio, Texas, an American citizen who was held in Tampico, on political suspicion, has been released through the efforts of Consul General Miller.

L. H. Morrison, who was held under suspicion by Federal authorities at Guaymas, is to be delivered into the custody of Admiral Cowles on the cruiser Pittsburg for transportation out of Mexico.

Ambassador in New York.

New York, July 25.—Pausing here for a half day on his hurried Mexico-to-Washington trip in response to a summons from President Wilson, Henry Lane Wilson, American ambassador to Mexico, announced his emphatic opposition to several plans under consideration by the State Department for bringing about peace in the troubled Mexican Republic.

Supplementing statements he made earlier in the day, disapproving the suggestions of American mediation or the appointment of a tripartite commission, Mr. Wilson tonight explained why he considered the plan for a tripartite committee not a feasible one.

"If we are to consider such a plan, we may as well abandon the Monroe Doctrine entirely," he said. "The Monroe Doctrine pledges the United States to take care of the interests of American governments without the aid of any foreign country. Consequently, under the Monroe Doctrine we cannot attempt to settle Mexico's affairs through the services of such a body as the proposed tri-partite commission, since it involves calling in outside governments to help."

Mr. Wilson was reticent when questioned on his policies on American intervention and recognition of Mexico by the United States. These views, he said, he felt he must reserve for his conference with President Wilson and Secretary Bryan.

"I have been blamed for a great deal," the ambassador commented as he discussed his administration in Mexico City. On everything he has done he "stands pat," however, he said, and believed as he hurried on to Washington, taking a train late tonight, that he would be retained in his position and sent back to Mexico.

The ambassador's silence regarding his opinion as to American recognition was broken tonight long enough for him to comment on one of his acts just subsequent to the overthrow of Madero.

Mr. Wilson recalled that this act was interpreted in many quarters as virtual recognition of Mexico, notwithstanding the refusal of his government at Washington to admit the republic on a diplomatic footing common with other governments.

In February, when Huerta became provisional president, the ambassador instructed American consuls in Mexico "in the interests of Mexico to urge general submission and adhesion to the government, which will be recognized by all foreign governments today."

Mr. Wilson said a wrong construction would be placed upon this advice to consular officers by any person who believed it meant that he recognized the Huerta government, or that he had desired to conflict in any way with the policies of either Mr. Taft, as President, or President Wilson.

"It was the de facto government only, that I recognized," Mr. Wilson explained. "The de facto government was the only government that possessed the power to offer protection for American lives and property and for the lives and property of other foreigners. I acted as any ambassador had the right to act—in the interests of my countrymen. The government I recognized was the only existing one of law and order. I believe I did right at that critical time."

American Prisoner of Mexicans.

El Paso, Texas, July 25.—Information reached here today that Charles Biefel, manager of the Mines Company of America is held prisoner by the Mexican Federals at Chihuahua. He was arrested by Orozco at Santa Rosalia. He is a New York man and the home office of his company is in New York.

Tomas Urbina, a Mexican rebel leader telegraphed his wife in El Paso today that the rebels have taken Torreon.

Elections Deferred.

Douglas, Ariz., July 25.—The constitutionalist committee here announced today that no elections would be held in Sonora State in August. It is planned to hold elections only after peace is restored. The State Legislature would dissolve automatically, it was said, leaving Governor Pesqueira in absolute control.

TURN OUT TYPHOID MAN.

Government Refuse to Pay His Maintenance Any Longer.

Sacramento, Cal., July 25.—Harry Olsen, whose widespread dissemination of the deathly typhoid bacillus has resulted in the death of 18 of his fellow seamen, is to be turned out of the Federal Marine Hospital at San Francisco because the State of California won't pay his board bill.

Olsen has been kept isolated for more than a year at the expense of the National health department, but now the government authorities refuse to bear the cost of his maintenance any longer.

What to do with Olsen, who is declared to be a menace to the health of society, is puzzling the State Board of Health. Under the fund at its disposal there is no money available for taking care of him.

tian, licorice root and sarsaparilla root was also rejected. A roll call was demanded on a Burton amendment to strike off the duty of one cent a pound on citrate of lime on the ground that it was a raw material.

The amendment was rejected, Senator Borah voting with the Democrats.

Senator Borah also voted with the Democrats against an amendment of Senator Norris, of Nebraska, to strike off the duty of 50 cents a pound on menthol. The amendment was rejected 28 to 40. Senator Norris maintained that menthol should be on the free list because it is used for medicinal purposes. Senator Smoot's amendment to reduce the duty on lanolin or wool grease of one cent a pound to a half a cent a pound also was rejected. Senator Bristow wanted to know why, with wool on the free list the Democrats began to tax the bi-products as soon as the wool left the sheep's backs.

Senators Bristow and Reed had a wordy conflict over the tariff on wool grease, which extended into partisan argument. The Senator from Kansas asked Senator Reed if he believed in free lead and zinc which come from Missouri.

"I voted for it in the caucus," said Senator Reed.

"Are you going to vote for it now?" asked Bristow.

"No, because I am going to support the view of the majority," said Reed.

"Then you believe in caucus legislation?"

"No," Senator Reed replied, "but I do believe in supporting a policy which all have agreed upon. If I would vote for nothing except what I favored I would have to write the whole bill. But there is a caucus that is far more binding than any other and that is the organization of the interests which have controlled and financed and for years made a catspaw of the Republican party."

"And your party has written a bill," Senator Bristow hotly rejoined, "which is more for the benefit of those interests than any tariff bill ever presented. It places one the free list articles of independent manufacturers, and protects those manufactured by the trusts."

When the Senate adjourned hours of argument had delayed progress in the chemical schedule, so that less than ten paragraphs had been approved during the day.

MAY VOTE BY ELECTRICITY.

Congressman Walsh Suggests Machine for Recording Yeas and Nays.

Washington, July 25.—Representative Walsh has suggested a voting scheme to the House Rules committee which will do away with the dreary and protracted roll calls that now take up so much time in the House, and which have proved excellent mediums for exasperating filibusters. Mr. Walsh, who is an expert electrician, would have installed an electric bulletin board with an alphabetical list of the names of all members contained thereon. Opposite each name would be two bulls eye lamps, one red, which when flashed would indicate that the member had voted "yes," the other blue, which would signal the intention of the member to vote "nay". The totals on the board would be automatically totaled and the House could see at a glance how every member voted, together with the result.

Under Mr. Walsh's scheme, wires would lead from the bulletin to the seat of every member. Each switch operating the recording socket would have its individual key, thus safeguarding the voting member at all times.

Mr. Walsh told the committee that he had worked out the details of the proposed plan and that he was convinced of its efficiency. The committee took no action, but may give Mr. Walsh a further hearing.

TYPHOID VACCINE BY STATE.

North Carolina Laboratory of Hygiene Will Make It.

Raleigh, N. C., July 25.—The Health Bulletin announces that the Laboratory of Hygiene will soon be making typhoid vaccine for the State at greatly reduced prices. This vaccine, until recently, sold at abnormally high prices, but it has now been reduced so that the vaccine itself costs about $1.50 per person. In the interests of humanity, economy and public health, the laboratory will make it and sell it at cost.

Eighty-two thousand United States soldiers were vaccinated up to July 1st, a year ago. The typhoid rate dropped from 3.03 per 1,000 in 1909 to 0.3 in 1912—a reduction of 90 per cent.

Not only does typhoid vaccination reduce one's chances of taking typhoid at least 75 to 90 per cent. but it also reduces the danger in those that do contract the disease. From the best data available it appears to reduce the death rate of vaccinated people that contract typhoid to about one-seventh the death rate of unvaccinated persons that contract the disease.

NORMAL CONDITIONS

Prison Quiet Since Removal of Ringleaders in Rebellion Movement

Ossining, N. Y., July 25.—With the ringleaders of the rebellion gone, normal conditions at the prison returned. The convicts kept on with their yelling and moaning throughout the forenoon but in the afternoon the men in the cells seemed to tire and the din died out.

The convicts in the shops made no trouble of any kind. Tonight the prison was quiet for the first time in three days, much to the relief of the Ossining villagers.

Dutt Schoenherr, a burglar who mysteriously disappeared last Saturday, was found today hiding in an 11-inch space between the ceiling of the knitting shop and the floor of the clothing shop. He had been there for nearly a week awaiting an opportunity to escape. It is believed other convicts smuggled food to him and that for this reason he was able to remain in hiding for so long a time.

ON HER KITCHEN STOVE.

It is interesting to note that the most successful remedy for woman's ills was originally prepared nearly forty years ago by Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham of Lyon, Mass., by steeping roots and herbs on her kitchen stove and supplied to friends and neighbors without cost. Its fame spread; the demand grew; until now many tons of roots and herbs are used each year in order to supply this famous remedy which has proved such a marvelous success in controlling diseases of women. Merit alone could have stood this test of time.

MULHALL SHOWS SIGNS OF STRAIN

with President Taft, saying he had submitted names of men who would help in the campaign.

"He seemed to scrutinize the items very closely," Mulhall wrote, "and talked as if John H. Taylor, of East Liverpool, and H. M. Hanna, were not enthusiastic friends of his.

"He was greatly pleased with the work I told him I had done in Massachusetts and other States, and advised me to inform our people to do everything we possibly could to keep in touch with leaders of the Congressional districts."

Mulhall caused a mild sensation just before the recess by swearing that a list of repeaters from New York had been offered him in the Sixth New Jersey campaign against William Hughes in 1910, by a Mr. Conklin, who he said, was a Republican county chairman in that district.

"I refused them," Mulhall said. "He told me both sides used them."

Several of Mulhall's expense accounts about the time of the 1910 elections showed large amounts paid for work at the polls. He swore he had not paid any of this money "directly" to voters. He said it had gone to "party workers."

Mulhall produced a letter dated December 14th, 1910, to James A. Emery, purporting to be signed by A. C. Marshall, relating to the selection of a site for a new postoffice at Dayton, Ohio.

The letter said:

"The matter is well advanced toward a settlement, but is being delayed by a speculative movement represented by James M. Cox, M. C.

"Mrs. Kirby, Mrs. Marshall and other officials of the W. C. A., are interested in the favorable report which has been made to Secretary MacVeagh by Assistant Secretary Charles D. Hilles, because it finds a market for the present W. C. A. building.

"I presume you have some knowledge of the matter through Mr. Kirby's correspondence and interview with Mr. Hilles and possibly through the influence with MacVeagh or President Taft.

"Mr. Hilles has reported officially in favor of this property and in strong terms, it is said. The secretary of the treasury is also understood to be favorable and it looked a month ago as if the Hilles report would be promptly approved. The appropriation for the purchase of the land, $310,000, has been made, also for the erection of the building.

"Action is being delayed and the W. C. A. site opposed in the interest of property owners and real estate agents who favor another location. Mr. Cox advocated prompt action so as to insure early completion of the building, which is greatly needed until recently. He now favors delaying action until Mr. Hilles retires, March 1st, and advocates having the purchase made by condemnation proceedings, as affording a chance for the sale of the competing property."

Mulhall received a letter from Bird, January 25th, protesting aginst the erection of dry docks and the installation of supply stores in the Panama canal zone by the government. Mulhall replied that Chairman Flint, of the Senate inter-ocean canal committee, had told him that it had passed the House and that he intended to push it through the Senate if possible. He said that Senators Borah and Simmons told him the bill had little chance at the regular 1910 session.

"I am well acquainted with him," he said of Senator Simmons.

Mulhall continued to talk of controlling committees of Congress in 1911, writing to Bird in January:

"I reported to Mr. Emery that I am positive that we will fare very much better with the incoming Democrats than we have been doing with the present Congress."

Questioned by the committee, he said that the boast was not made good.

APPEAL TO FRANCE.

Bulgarian Mothers Ask France to Prevent Turkish Massacres.

Sofia, July 25.—The French minister here was requested today by the Bulgarian women in Philippopolis, eastern Rumelia, to send the following telegram to President and Mme. Poincaire:

"Bulgarian mothers, whose sons are on the battlefield, implore Madame and Monseur Poincaire with tears in their eyes to save us from the Turkish massacres which threaten Philippopolis. Your intervention is our last hope. Accept our sincere thanks and gratitude."

London, July 25.—The important development today in the Balkan situation was a demand presented by the Austrian representatives at Athens and Belgrade for an immediate cessation of hostilities, together with a warning that Austria will not allow Bulgaria to be too greatly humiliated.

It was declared in Vienna tonight that should Greece and Servia still oppose an armistice a Rumanian army acting as a mandatory of Austria and Russia will prevent any attack on Sofia and that Austria will take even more energetic steps if necessary to stop the war.

Should it be true that Austria and Russia thus have agreed to co-operate the pressure exercised doubtless will be effective.

In military circles here the principal news is that the Servians have invested the ancient fortress of Vidin, Bulgaria, 130 miles south of Belgrade. The fall of the fortress cannot long be delayed—in fact a Belgrade dispatch reports that Gen. Kutuntcheff's troops already are beginning to surrender.

CONVICTS ARRIVE.

Sixty Prisoners From Sing Sing Reach Auburn Under Guard.

Auburn, N. Y., July 25.—Sixty convicts from Sing Sing prison reached here tonight. All the Auburn guards were on hand and lined the way from the train to the prison gates. The convicts were worn out and hoarse because of their conduct en route. At almost every station where the train stopped they made noisy demonstrations.

A report received here before the train arrived stated shooting had been necessary as the train left Syracuse and that one conviet had been wounded. State Detective Jackson, in charge of the convicts, denied this emphatically.

Kingstreet, S. C., July 25.—Wednesday over 80,000 pounds of excellent tobacco was sold in local warehouses, averaging 12.03 per pound.
